24 Perish in NY Garment District Flash Fire, Blast

NEW YORK (AP)—A flash fire triggered by an explosion shot smoke and flames into a fourth-floor underwear factory in a lower Broadway loft building Wednesday, killing 24 persons.

A medical examiner said most of the victims were asphyxiated before the flames reached them.

Several women were leaping from windows by the time the first firemen reached the scene. Six women in all leaped to the street. Two other persons were caught in fire nets; five were rescued via aerial ladders.

Fifteen persons were injured. Twelve persons were in hospitals. Two were in critical condition. The other three were treated and released.

Survivors were high in their praise of Abraham J. Becker, 37, a foreman for the Monarch Underwear Corp., who not only tried to restore order but went back into the flaming fourth floor time and time again to lead others to safety. But the World War II veteran, married and the father of two children, did not survive his last rescue attempt. He was overcome by smoke and died.

FIRE Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said there was no evidence of fire law violations on the premises, adding: "It would seem that panic played a most important role in this blaze. Some bodies were piled one on top of the other—evidence of mass hysteria. At least three jumped from windows where there was no evidence of smoke or flame."

An inquiry opened today at the city fire marshal's office. In Albany, Gov. Averell Harriman ordered the State Department of Labor and the Division of Safety to investigate the fire in cooperation with city officials.

The blaze broke out when an oven exploded shortly before 4 p. m. on the third-floor textile factory in the five-story structure.

A bolt of fabric was being treated in the oven when the blast came. The three employees on the third floor escaped unharmed, as did persons on all other floors but the fourth.

Five alarms brought 200 firemen and dozens of pieces of equipment to the scene. But it was almost 6 p. m. before the fire fighters, repeatedly balked by intense heat and smoke, were able to enter the fourth floor by aerial ladder.

They saw bodies piled atop one another. Some were heaped near the doorways, others lay under work tables and benches, and some were huddled near windows.

Still alive amid the charred ruins was an unidentified woman and a man. The woman had saved her life by crawling into a large metal container which shielded her from the flames. The streams of water being poured onto the fire cooled the metal enough to keep her from being roasted to death. The man was found flat on his face, hugging the floor.

Summit Conference Agenda Seen Limited to Arms Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—A summit conference devoted solely to seeking a disarmament agreement was under consideration by the Eisenhower administration today.

Officials said disarmament in all its aspects, from futuristic plans for taming outer space to the age-old issue of curbing armed manpower, seems to offer the best hope for progress among the points of East-West tension.

A new letter from Soviet Premier Bulganin to British Prime Minister Macmillan emphasized how far apart East and West are on the other issues.

Bulganin once more stressed Soviet opposition to discussing at the summit such topics as German reunification, barring the U.N. veto, and greater political freedom for Red Eastern European satellites.

These three items have been advanced by President Eisenhower.

ONLY IN THE disarmament field, therefore, is any "give" apparent to U.S. officials.

The greatest flexibility on the Soviet side, they said, was new Kremlin willingness to accept Eisenhower's space-for-peace proposal. But to this the Soviets attached a condition—elimination of all U. S. bases abroad.

On the U.S. side, Eisenhower was reported ready to drop his insistence that any halt in nuclear tests must be linked to a cutoff in the making of nuclear weapons.

Officials said they may press for a meeting next month of the 25-member U. N. Disarmament Commission.

If the Soviet Union sticks to its vow not to attend, a Security Council session would then be sought, followed possibly by low-level U.S.-Soviet disarmament talks. The purpose of this effort, officials said, would be to find out whether any agreement can be reached in disarmament.

Industrialist's Bequest May Be Altered

ASHTABULA (AP)—For 21 years, a $250,000 gift has been waiting for an industrial or polytechnic school where all the students, teachers and officers attend Sunday school and church and observe the Sabbath.

But the bequest from the will of Conneaut industrialist George J. Record may not be waiting much longer.

Wednesday Probate Judge J. Phillip Perry heard estate trustees say they could find no such institution and the $250,000 bequest was insufficient to build one. Instead, they submitted a substitute plan to spend the trust fund money, and Judge Perry took the plan under advisement.

The trustees have suggested establishing a college scholarship fund for Ashtabula high school graduates. The million dollar estate left by Record has been kept in litigation since his wife died in 1937 by restrictions the industrialist placed on the educational trust fund. In addition to the stipulation about church and Sunday school attendance and Sabbath observance, he specified the school be "Protestant in ethics and teaching, but otherwise undenominational." He stipulated also that each school session open with a prayer and scripture reading.

Coeds Eating On 50c Daily

Utah Study Disproves What Can't Be Done

PROVO, Utah (AP)—Coeds at Brigham Young University are constantly doing what any housewife knows can't be done—eating on 50 cents a day when meat and potatoes come high.

The girls don't seem to lose weight; they get nutritious but simple meals and they have a reasonably varied diet.

They do it in a sort of combat course for senior students of homemaking.

For nine-day stretches, two of the girls move to a separate apartment set up by the university. Mrs. Stella Lewis, homemaking instructor, hands over "hubby's" paycheck—a measly $10 for the nine-day period.

One girl becomes "husband" or "host" and the other becomes "planner" of "wife."

Just to prove that life needn't be all steak, potatoes and dollars, seniors Pauline Barlow, 22, and Rachel Schmidt, 23, produced the following evening meal:

Beef stew, dumplings, tossed salad with a microscopic slice of bacon and a razor-thin egg slice, milk (who's mixed with powdered and chilled to taste better) and apricot gelatin desert.

The cost: just over 49 cents for both girls.

Sumptuous dinners like that mean breakfast and lunch must be held to pennies per girl.

The meals wouldn't provide ballast for a lumberjack's fork, but they would hold him until he could find a restaurant.

Mrs. Lewis says the girls have no trouble living on 50 cents a day—that all of them turn back a dollar or two from the $10 paycheck.

They are required to prepare three meals daily.

Some of the girls plan to become home economics instructors or kitchen equipment demonstrators.

Others are preparing for the possible "worse" in the "for better or for worse" clause.

New Search Planned for Missing Boy

GALLIPOLIS FERRY, W. Va. (AP)—Authorities, voicing a belief Johnny McKinney might have met with foul play, called today for a shoulder-to-shoulder search for the 5-year-old boy missing since Monday.

The area under search, near the Paul McKinney home on the Rolfe Lee farm nearby, was combed earlier without a trace of the blond youngster.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Mark Harshbarger said Wednesday, "too many different stories have been told about the disappearance of this boy. We are not satisfied." He would not elaborate.

The comment came after several hundred volunteers probed lake bottoms, barns and terrain. The second of two ponds on the farm was partly drained and the bottom checked with no results.

Exhausted searchers went home to rest Wednesday night for the first time since beginning their task Monday night. Round-the-clock searching had been going on.

Johnny, described as a lover of the outdoors, was given little hope of being alive by his mother, Mrs. McKinney, 27, said, "he just possibly could not be alive if he has been out in this cold, damp snow all this time."

Her only hope that Johnny was alive was based on a "rumor" that he might have been picked up on W. Va. 2. State police said they were investigating such a report.

Johnny, third of the McKinneys' four children, wandered away from his home with two dogs Monday afternoon. Both dogs returned, but at different times.

Parts of two military organizations—the 3664 Ordinance DS Company with headquarters at Ft. Pleasant and the communications section of the 468 Field Artillery Battalion of Huntington—were called to active duty for today's search.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Highways are slippery in the southwestern corner of the state, the Ohio Department of Highways reports.

Winter To End Tonight; If You Get Spring Fever, Blame Hothouse Living

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Spring fever is blamed by a university professor on winter hothouse living.

Spring officially starts this evening at 10:10 p. m.

Dr. Laurence E. Morehouse says Californians are generally immune to severe spring fever. The temperate climate allows year-round physical activity, he says.

But the Easterner who reacts to ice and snow by creating a tropical climate within his home, hotel or automobile is a sure victim, says this professor of physical education at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Morehouse, 44, contends he has not suffered spring fever since he moved here in 1946 after being a research fellow at Harvard University's fatigue laboratory.

In his view, the spring-fever victim is out of condition. His temperature-regulating mechanism—the tiny blood vessels under the skin—reacts slowly at first to warmer days. Then these capillaries overreact, as do the heart, larger blood vessels and the blood pressure of an out-of-condition body under sudden stress. This overreaction creates above-normal temperatures.

Thus, while Webster defines spring fever ("the lazy, listless feeling which comes to persons with the first warm days of spring") as a humorous state the victim actually has a feverish feeling of weakness and inaccurate temperature control.

To prevent spring fever (and this may do more good next year than this, if you've already got it) Morehouse suggests: Get daily physical activity, indoors or out, to keep your muscles from "hibernating" in winter months. Have frequent and regular exposure to temperature changes at a "graded and gradual pace."

If you've already got it: Resist the initial temptation to out-jump the spring lambs or, later, succumb to lassitude. Begin a gradual program of physical exercise. Drink plenty of water. Be more generous with the salt shaker.

16 Babies Killed By Epidemic

Texas Hospital Fights Unusual Bacteria

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A spreading bacterial infection, which resists antibiotics, has claimed the lives of 16 babies in 2½ months in the newborn and premature nurseries at City-County Hospital.

The hospital board of managers said incomplete statistics show at least 81 babies have been infected, and 21 mothers infected in February alone.

The announcement said the bacteria are suspected of a key role in an increased number of pneumonia cases among elderly patients. It was described as the same epidemic strain that has been picked up in other hospitals throughout the country.

Staphylococcus causes a myriad of troubles ranging from boils and abscesses to frequently fatal infections such as blood poisoning, pneumonia and heart infection.

THE INCREASED threat has come about because the bacteria has become resistant to the most commonly used antibiotics, hospital authorities said.

Ben Taub, chairman of the board of managers, said emergency measures are being taken, but added: "These procedures may not be adequate to control the infection among the newborns and in that event the only alternative may be the re-establishment of the maternity and nursery divisions in entirely new locations."

Ohioan Says Dictator Hurts U.S. Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen are put "behind the eight ball" when the dictator of a country receiving U.S. aid spends $1 million to send his son to school in America for a year.

Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) said this in referring to Dominican chief Rafael Trujillo at a House Foreign Affairs Committee hearing.

In March 5 closed-door testimony made public today, Hays reported a published account that Trujillo's son occupies the whole floor of a Kansas City hotel and uses a fleet of automobiles, a weekend ranchhouse and other niceties costing an estimated $1 million a year.

Meanwhile the Dominican Republic is earmarked for $1,300,000 in aid this year, Hays said.

"That is the kind of little things that the newspapers pick up and make a big story of, and it puts us behind the eight ball," he added.

Rep. Fulton (R-Pa.) joined John Ohly, a deputy director of the International Cooperation Administration, in defending the aid use.

Fulton said the Caribbean countries are cooperating on U.S. missile ranges and on anti-submarine efforts and that these nations have built installations helpful in the cold war.

Congress Awaits Ike's New Proposals To Hike Idle Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress took a breathing spell today from its scramble to pass job-creating measures while it awaited President Eisenhower's unemployment compensation proposals.

No time has been fixed for submission of the plan, details of which have not been announced. It was outlined to a group of state governors Wednesday, but there were indications more work remains to be done on it.

The House, which sent to Eisenhower a $1,850,000,000 emergency housing bill he was expected to sign, prepared to act on a farm project freeze measure that seemed headed for an almost certain veto.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas promised any recommendations Eisenhower sends to Congress to help the 5,200,000 unemployed will be "expediently considered."

But with the House scheduled to give first consideration to administration and Democratic proposals to extend jobless compensation payments, Johnson indicated the Senate will mark time with minor measures until it gets a bill next week to speed up highway construction.

SEVERAL governors said after the White House conference that Eisenhower's proposal called for federal grants to finance a 13-week extension of jobless benefits for those whose eligibility under the varying state unemployment

Ohio Power Companies Boost Construction

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio's eight electric light and power companies have 1958 construction budgets totaling $287 million, the Ohio Electric Utility Institute says.

This compares with $260 million spent last year, $217 million in 1956 and $182 million in 1955.

When the 1958 construction projects are completed, they will add nearly three million kilowatts of generating capacity to the present total generating capacity of 8,862,000 kilowatts.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Negroes here presented $200 to a 17-year-old white youth Wednesday in gratitude for his heroism.

Matthew Thornton, 84-year-old blind "mayor" of famed Beale Street, sponsored the fund-raising drive.

OK by House Seen Despite Veto Threat

Measure To Prevent Farm Prop Slashes By Ag Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hold-the-line farm price support bill was called up for probable House passage today in the face of a threatened presidential veto.

The bill, a toned-down version of Senate-passed legislation, would impose a one-year freeze on government price supports and planting allowances at levels no lower than those now in force.

Speaking to a gathering of Republican women Tuesday, President Eisenhower said a freeze of "price-depressing practices of the past represents in my opinion a 180-degree turn in the wrong direction."

Despite his opposition, Democrats and many Republicans pushed the proposal as a temporary means of halting any further decline in the farm economy. Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee said a half-billion-dollar drop in agricultural income could be avoided. Administration backers, on the other hand, cautioned that the measure would jeopardize chances of permanent farm legislation this session, and would invite disastrous drops in livestock and grain prices.

THE HOUSE measure would limit to a year the hold order on price support levels and acreage allotments. A bill passed earlier by the Senate contains no time limitation, making the freeze permanent until repealed or supplanted by Congress.

Under terms of the House bill, the price support floor would be held at the 1957 level, acreage allowances at the 1958 level. The acreage freeze would thus apply to 1959 because 1958 planting allotments already have been fixed.

Strongest Republican support for the bill came from GOP dairy state members.

Under plans announced by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, dairy price supports are scheduled to be lowered April 1 to the legal minimum of 75 per cent of parity. Supports for manufacturing milk are now 83 per cent, those for butterfat 80 per cent.

The cut Benson proposed would cut milk price supports from $3.25 to $3.03 a hundred pounds, and butterfat supports from 58 to 56 cents a pound.

Benson was told by a delegation of Ohio Farm Bureau members that they oppose the bill to freeze price supports on basic farm commodities.

The delegation, visiting Ohio congressmen and government agencies, said the bill contains some provisions they want.

They said Wednesday they back the provision that freezes milk support price at present levels. But, since the bill also calls for freezes on wheat, corn, peanut, rice and tobacco, the Bureau decided to oppose it. D. R. Stanfield, exclusive secretary, said.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) told a luncheon meeting of the delegation: "I doubt very much that the freeze will take place." He said that is "the feeling around Washington."

PUCO Asked OK Power Rate Linked To Cost of Coal

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Power Co. today asked the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to permit it to automatically increase its residential and commercial rates every time the price of coal rises 11 cents per ton.

But company officials said any additional costs to customers in the foreseeable future would be negligible. Industrial customers, who consume about 75 per cent of Ohio Power's electrical output, already are covered by fuel cost recovery clauses.

The company has 440,000 customers in 53 counties. Cities it serves include Canton, Steubenville, East Liverpool, Van Wert, Fremont, Lima, Logan, Lancaster, Dover, Mount Vernon, Newark and Portsmouth. The company also serves Findlay, but rates there are set by city ordinance and would not be affected by today's request.

O'Neill Blocks Plan To Cut State Budget

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill Wednesday blocked a proposed $6 million cut in the State Division of Mental Hygiene's budget.

The governor announced, following a conference with John A. Skipton, state finance director, and Dr. Robert Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, that he has overruled the proposal by the Finance Department.

The proposal was made last week while O'Neill was vacationing in Florida.

"The administration's economy program will not be permitted to affect the mentally ill who are unable to care for themselves," O'Neill stated.

The governor also labeled as "inaccurate and out-dated" reports published recently implying lack of progress in the Division of Mental Hygiene.

He said that last year $18 million worth of modern fireproof hospitals were put under construction. Additional building projects, estimated at more than $4 million, have or will be advertised for bids in the first quarter of this year, he added.

O'Neill said 397 additional professional personnel also has been added to the staff of the Mental Hygiene Division.

The total number of employees in the division as of Feb. 1, 1958, was 13,177 as compared with 12,588 on Jan. 1, 1957.

Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) said this in referring to Dominican chief Rafael Trujillo at a House Foreign Affairs Committee hearing.

In March 5 closed-door testimony made public today, Hays reported a published account that Trujillo's son occupies the whole floor of a Kansas City hotel and uses a fleet of automobiles, a weekend ranchhouse and other niceties costing an estimated $1 million a year.

Meanwhile the Dominican Republic is earmarked for $1,300,000 in aid this year, Hays said.

"That is the kind of little things that the newspapers pick up and make a big story of, and it puts us behind the eight ball," he added.

Rep. Fulton (R-Pa.) joined John Ohly, a deputy director of the International Cooperation Administration, in defending the aid use.

Fulton said the Caribbean countries are cooperating on U.S. missile ranges and on anti-submarine efforts and that these nations have built installations helpful in the cold war.

Congress Awaits Ike's New Proposals To Hike Idle Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress took a breathing spell today from its scramble to pass job-creating measures while it awaited President Eisenhower's unemployment compensation proposals.

No time has been fixed for submission of the plan, details of which have not been announced. It was outlined to a group of state governors Wednesday, but there were indications more work remains to be done on it.

The House, which sent to Eisenhower a $1,850,000,000 emergency housing bill he was expected to sign, prepared to act on a farm price support freeze measure that seemed headed for an almost certain veto.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas promised any recommendations Eisenhower sends to Congress to help the 5,200,000 unemployed will be "expeditiously considered."

But with the House scheduled to give first consideration to administration and Democratic proposals to extend jobless compensation payments, Johnson indicated the Senate will mark time with minor measures until it gets a bill next week to speed up highway construction.

SEVERAL governors said after the White House conference that Eisenhower's proposal called for federal grants to finance a 13-week extension of jobless benefits for those whose eligibility under the varying state unemployment compensation programs has expired.

An administration spokesman said, however, that the federal aid would be more in the form of loans than of grants, though he conceded the extra money would not come from state funds or from an increase in state taxes.

The present jobless benefit program is financed by a tax on payrolls ranging up to 3 per cent of the first $3,000 of a worker's earnings. Of this the federal government keeps three tenths of 1 per cent for administrative costs and credits the remainder to reserve funds of the various states.

Gov. Goodwin Knight of California, one of the eight governors, said Eisenhower is proposing that when a state exhausts its own reserve funds, it would be granted more money from the federal administrative fund. The federal government would then replenish its own fund.

But an administration spokesman, calling the advances more loans than grants, said could come either from the states' own reserve funds when they were replenished or from an addition in the payroll tax.

Murder Rap Filed in Auto 'Wreck' Death

POMEROY (AP)—A first degree murder charge was lodged against a young husband whose wife was found dead in the wreckage of their auto Saturday night.

The husband, George Lynn Offutt, 22, of Rt. 1, Minersville, pleaded innocent at his arraignment before County Judge Emmet W. Peoples.

His wife, Donna Jean, 21, was found dead alongside a road about 12 miles northwest of here where the car had gone over an embankment and crashed into a tree.

Offutt claimed he was knocked out in the crash and that he went for help when he regained consciousness about a half hour later.

Coroner Henry Ewing said Mrs. Offutt died of a crushed skull. He said she also had 14 deep lacerations in her head, but that no broken glass was found in the car.

Offutt was arrested Wednesday as he left the cemetery following his wife's burial.

Sheriff Robert Hartenbach said Offutt refused to take a lie detector test.

Offutt is being held in Meigs County jail here. A preliminary hearing has been scheduled for 10 a. m. Tuesday.

O'Neill Blocks Plan To Cut State Budget

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill Wednesday blocked a proposed $6 million cut in the State Division of Mental Hygiene's budget.

The governor announced, following a conference with John A. Skipton, state finance director, and Dr. Robert Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, that he has overruled the proposal by the Finance Department.

The proposal was made last week while O'Neill was vacationing in Florida.

"The administration's economy program will not be permitted to affect the mentally ill who are unable to care for themselves," O'Neill stated.

The governor also labeled as "inaccurate and out-dated" reports published recently implying lack of progress in the Division of Mental Hygiene.

He said that last year $18 million worth of modern fireproof hospitals were put under construction. Additional building projects, estimated at more than $4 million, have or will be advertised for bids in the first quarter of this year, he added.

O'Neill said 397 additional professional personnel also has been added to the staff of the Mental Hygiene Division.

The total number of employees in the division as of Feb. 1, 1958, was 13,177 as compared with 12,588 on Jan. 1, 1957.

OK by House Seen Despite Veto Threat

Measure To Prevent Farm Prop Slashes By Ag Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hold-the-line farm price support bill was called up for probable House passage today in the face of a threatened presidential veto.

The bill, a toned-down version of Senate-passed legislation, would impose a one-year freeze on government price supports and planting allowances at levels no lower than those now in force.

Speaking to a gathering of Republican women Tuesday, President Eisenhower said a freeze of "price-depressing practices of the past represents in my opinion a 180-degree turn in the wrong direction."

Despite his opposition, Democrats and many Republicans pushed the proposal as a temporary means of halting any further decline in the farm economy. Chairman Coolidge (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee said a half-billion-dollar drop in agricultural income could be avoided. Administration backers, on the other hand, cautioned that the measure would jeopardize chances of permanent farm legislation this session, and would invite disastrous drops in livestock and grain prices.

THE HOUSE measure would limit to a year the hold order on price support levels and acreage allotments. A bill passed earlier by the Senate contains no time limitation, making the freeze permanent until repealed or supplanted by Congress.

Under terms of the House bill, the price support floor would be held at the 1957 level, acreage allowances at the 1958 level. The acreage freeze would thus apply to 1959 because 1958 planting allotments already have been fixed.

Strongest Republican support for the bill came from GOP dairy state members.

Under plans announced by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, dairy price supports are scheduled to be lowered April 1 to the legal minimum of 75 per cent of parity. Supports for manufacturing milk are now 83 per cent, those for butterfat 80 per cent.

The cut Benson proposed would cut milk price supports from $3.25 to $3.03 a hundred pounds, and butterfat supports from 58 to 56 cents a pound.

Benson was told by a delegation of Ohio Farm Bureau members that they oppose the bill to freeze price supports on basic farm commodities.

The delegation, visiting Ohio congressmen and government agencies, said the bill contains some provisions they want.

They said Wednesday they back the provision that freezes milk support price at present levels. But, since the bill also calls for freezes on wheat, corn, peanut, rice and tobacco, the Bureau decided to oppose it, D. R. Standfield, executive secretary, said.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) told a luncheon meeting of the delegation: "I doubt very much that the freeze will take place." He said that is "the feeling around Washington."

PUCO Asked OK Power Rate Linked To Cost of Coal

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Power Co. today asked the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to permit it to automatically increase its residential and commercial rates every time the price of coal rises 11 cents per ton.

But company officials said any additional costs to customers in the foreseeable future would be negligible. Industrial customers, who consume about 75 per cent of Ohio Power's electrical output, already are covered by fuel cost recovery clauses.

The company has 440,000 customers in 53 counties. Cities it serves include Canton, Steubenville, East Liverpool, Van Wert, Fremont, Lima, Logan, Lancaster, Dover, Mount Vernon, Newark and Portsmouth. The company also serves Findlay, but rates there are set by city ordinance and would not be affected by today's request.

Probers Told Kohler Aides Shoot Man During '34 Riot

WASHINGTON (AP)—An affidavit charging that four deputized Kohler Co. officials shot a man in a 1934 riot set off a heated row today in a Senate Rackets Committee hearing.

Lyman C. Conger, the company's counsel and one of those accused in the affidavit, angrily denounced the allegation as "a complete and utter fabrication."

The committee is investigating violence in the four-year-old strike against Kohler, Wisconsin plumbing fixtures company, by the United Auto Workers Union.

The 1934 strike, in which two persons were killed and several dozen injured, involved another union.

The affidavit was read to the committee as the sworn statement of an absentee witness, John Deis, who said the four shot him.

It was read by Leo Breirather, an official of the UAW's Kohler local. He claimed no first hand knowledge about the 1934 incident, but said he believed the affidavit.

He said Deis is not a UAW member.

Deis' statement named Conger, Kohler plant manager Edmund Biever, William Runge and John Raml as the men he said shot him. Runge and Raml also are Kohler officials. Deis said they were serving as special police deputies on the night of the mid-summer 1934 riot.

The affidavit from Deis said he was one of the 1934 strikers against the Kohler Co., on the night of the riot.

Both Biever and Conger previously had sworn they did not shoot in the riot.

Breirather had been called for questioning primarily about boycott activities which the UAW has been conducting against Kohler products. He is chief steward of UAW Local 833 at Kohler and has been in charge of the boycott.

Can Information be Withheld?

An important measure supporting the public's "right to know" what its government does has been approved by the House Government Operations Committee.

It is a bill to trim the power of officials in Washington to withhold information under a 1789 "housekeeping" law originally designed to provide rules on how agencies would keep records. A Senate subcommittee has a similar bill under study.

In another development, persons who believe the government should open public records to the public must be discouraged as a result of the statement by U. S. Attorney General Rogers. He said that Presidents have an "inherent right" to keep data from Congress (and thereby from the public).

This may be an ultimate power based on the "separation of powers" but the danger is that it will be used by bureaucrats to justify hiding everything.

What seems to be needed now is a declaration by President Eisenhower—to be used as a precedent for future executives—that information may be withheld only on specific items when he so directs.

This would clear up the matter to a degree. It would force information officials to provide information unless it is so vital to the nation's security that the President personally will support the secrecy.

What Makes a Celebrity?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—What makes one man famous and another unknown?

Is there any single key to renown?

How do celebrities differ from ordinary people? And are they any better or worse?

Over the last 14 years these questions have interested me for two reasons:

1. I have found that most readers are interested in celebrities and sincerely wonder how they differ from the neighbor next door.

2. After nearly 1,000 interviews, from a lonely prisoner waiting to be hanged to a lonely general waiting for the combat chance to win a final star, I came to wonder myself how they were different and why they were different.

Do they have anything in common, these people who stick out from the crowd for one reason or another, who stand for an hour or a day or a lifetime in the spotlight?

Here are a few tentative conclusions I reached:

The greatest single difference between most celebrities and most noncelebrities is less a matter of talent than concentration.

The power of concentrated and durable attention to a fixed goal is, by my observation, the surest avenue to fame and recognition. The glow around a steady sweat will shine longer and farther than the broken gleam from a sporadic brilliance.

When most successful people say "My hobby is my work," they aren't lying.

To the ordinary man work its a way to earn a living. To most celebrities—certainly those who last—their work is their very life.

Celebrities differ in some ways occupationally. Show world celebrities, for example, are notorious hypochondriacs and realize their health is their greatest capital asset. Industrial executives, however, still are spendthrift of this greatest of natural resources.

It is quite common for celebrities to admit loneliness, but to them work is a greater refuge than it is for perhaps you or me. It is also a greater consolation.

One thing that impresses me most about a celebrity is this: If you ask him what he is looking for most in this world, he will sometimes answer—"Myself."

Eaton Desires Half Way Mark

By George Sokolsky

Cyrus S. Eaton, the capitalist, wants the United States to meet Soviet Russia half way. To Tehran, Yalta, Potsdam, Geneva—these are milestones in our progress toward the half way. Certainly the United States has not broken any treaties or agreements with Soviet Russia.

Cyrus Eaton spells out his credo as follows:

"I don't suppose you'd find any one in the world more dedicated to capitalism and democracy than I am. But I think the best way to destroy these two institutions in America is to go to war with Russia."

Why should the United States go to war with Russia? No one in this country desires war and enormous sacrifices have been made to avoid war. On the other hand, Khrushchev acts as though he is chafing at the bit for a war, for while he demands a summit conference strictly on his own terms, he threatens the United States in challenging language—language which half a century ago would result in the breaking off of diplomatic relations.

Forgotten are all the terms of Yalta concerning free elections. What Khrushchev wants is that Russia's territorial gains should be recognized by the United States as accomplished historic accumulations which can never be altered. But then history is always changing. Think of Khiva (Khorizm) which is now a territory lost in the Russian Empire. It was once a great state, among the great of the world.

History is not static. We become the first nation on Earth when Franklin D. Roosevelt took us into war; today, our primacy is not only being challenged by Khrushchev of Russia but by Mao Tse-tung of China. History is the record of the shifting and changing relationships among peoples. Cyrus Eaton says:

"Leave Russia alone, let her deal with her economic theories and practices—time would have a big effect on these. But to build places all around them from which we can launch bombs and missiles give that nation a solidarity that it would not have if they didn't feel the Western World was plotting to destroy them."

And would we be in less peril if we were defenseless? Of course, it can be argued, as a

Weight Control Helps Tension

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

In a previous column not long ago, I advised you that rest and relaxation in themselves were enough to lower blood pressure for many victims of hypertension.

Since then, many readers have asked: "What about dieting?"

Well, if you are considerably overweight and have high blood pressure—most of those suffering from hypertension are obese—losing weight will also help bring your pressure down considerably.

But neither resting, reducing or any other single remedy is enough to get rid of high blood pressure permanently. You must attack the problem with a combination of remedies. Such a battle plan can be formed only by your doctor.

If you are overweight, and moderately active, your physician will probably advise a diet of between 1,000 and 1,500 calories a day. This will permit you to lose about one or two pounds a week. In most cases, this is plenty.

I suggest you eat four or five rather light meals instead of the customary three heavy ones. And cut out snacks. Stopping in at the neighborhood drug store for a chocolate malted milk is a fine idea—if you aren't trying to reduce. Having a piece of pie for dessert is okay, too—if you don't have to lose weight.

One chocolate malted or one piece of pie contains about 450 calories. If you are on a 1,500-calorie diet, a malted and a piece of pie take almost two-thirds of your daily food quota.

You must also drink less in alcoholic beverages and soft drinks. The alcoholic and sugar content will thwart your diet plans.

In general, a glass of beer a day may not harm a person with moderately high blood pressure. But if you are reducing, you must consider the calorie problem.

While tea and coffee won't interfere with your dieting, providing against more than one or two cups a day for those of you with hypertension. They are stimulants, and it's dangerous to turn to them when you feel you need stimulation to keep going.

Question and Answer
C.R.: I took some aureomycin for pneumonia for about two weeks. Then I developed diarrhea with cramps in my stomach which have persisted for the last five months.

Answer: It would seem you have developed some sensitivity to aureomycin. This is not too uncommon. Usually, this condition will pass in time, but taking liver injections and vitamin B-12 is sometimes of help.

Insects To Survive Radiation Disaster

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—If an atomic radiation disaster struck the world, what would survive?

Insects, says Lt. Col. Samuel O. Hill.

They can survive 100 times the amount of radiation that humans and animals can take, he said in a statement from 4th Army medical laboratory.

He arrived at his opinion through tagging wood ticks by a radioisotope method.

He discovered they can absorb as much as 60,000 roentgens without death. It normally takes from 450 to 600 roentgens to kill an animal or human. A roentgen is a unit or measure of radiation.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—In 15 years in Washington this writer has never seen anything more fouled up than what happened Wednesday at the White House after President Eisenhower conferred with eight state governors.

It was hard to tell whether a rabbit was being pulled out of the hat, or a rabbit was being put back into a hat.

Eisenhower called in the governors to discuss his idea of providing federal money to those unemployed workers who have used up the jobless pay given them under the federal state system of unemployment compensation.

When Eisenhower first offered his idea March 8 he seemed to indicate he was thinking of a grant—a gift, which didn't have to be paid back—to the states to give to the unemployed who had exhausted their UC benefits.

This would be a plain dole. The idea of a dole got furious reaction within Eisenhower's own administration. Then administration people began talking of a loan, not a grant, to the states.

So nothing was clear when the governors went in to see Eisenhower. When they came out and held a group news conference this was the main question: Was Eisenhower thinking of a grant or a loan?

That news conference was plain hash. It was so vague it was almost unbelievable. James Hagerly, Eisenhower's press secretary, was there and could have cleared it up, or tried to, but he didn't.

Then the reporters tackled the governors individually. Republican Gov. Knight of California and Democratic Governors Rosellini (Washington), Faubus (Arkansas) and Muskie (Maine) talked of the federal help as being in the form of grants.

Knight and Rosellini told this writer the grant idea—requiring no repayment by the states—was the only one on which all eight governors agreed.

But then a White House spokesman gave a different version after newsmen, now thoroughly confused, besieged him for clarification. He said the President was thinking in terms of a loan that would have to be paid back.

He was asked how there could be such a difference of interpretation on what the President had in mind that the governors talked of a grant and he talked of a loan. The spokesman said: "Well, if you were a governor you might look on it as a grant while we look on it as a loan."

Then he got into the arithmetic to explain how states—while getting the money as a "loan"—might not have to raise any new money to pay it back. But when it came down to details on how this could be done, this was the answer: this was something which would have to be worked out.

But there is the point: all but perhaps six states have enough money in their own UC funds to extend the period in which the jobless can draw UC—in most states the maximum is 26 weeks—but they have declined to do so.

So this writer asked one governor who wished to remain unnamed: "Since no more than six states might need federal help to extend the jobless pay periods and all the rest have enough money to do it, if they want to, why should the government have to hand out money to those other 42?"

He said: "That's the best question of the day. And the best answer to it is that the question answers itself."

At this point it seems safe to say the Eisenhower administration is all fogged up itself on what it's going to propose.

Eaton Desires Half Way Mark

By George Sokolsky

Cyrus S. Eaton, the capitalist, wants the United States to meet Soviet Russia half way. Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam, Geneva—these are milestones in our progress toward the half way. Certainly the United States has not broken any treaties or agreements with Soviet Russia.

Cyrus Eaton spells out his credo as follows:

"I don't suppose you'd find any one in the world more dedicated to capitalism and democracy than I am. But I think the best way to destroy these two institutions in America is to go to war with Russia."

Why should the United States go to war with Russia? No one in this country desires war and enormous sacrifices have been made to avoid war. On the other hand, Khrushchev acts as though he is chafing at the bit for a war, for while he demands a summit conference strictly on his own terms, he threatens the United States in challenging language—language which half a century ago would result in the breaking off of diplomatic relations.

Forgotten are all the terms of Yalta concerning free elections. What Khrushchev wants is that Russia's territorial gains should be recognized by the United States as accomplished historic accumulations which can never be altered. But then history is always changing. Think of Khiva (Khorizm) which is now a territory lost in the Russian Empire. It was once a great state, among the great of the world.

History is not static. We become the first nation on Earth when Franklin D. Roosevelt took us into war; today, our primacy is not only being challenged by Khrushchev of Russia but by Mao Tse-tung of China. History is the record of the shifting and changing relationships

among peoples. Cyrus Eaton says:

"Leave Russia alone, let her deal with her economic theories and practices—time would have a big effect on these. But to build places all around them from which we can launch bombs and missiles give that nation a solidarity that it would not have if they didn't feel the Western World was plotting to destroy them."

And would we be in less peril if we were defenseless? Of course, it can be argued, as a

Maples Damaged By Bladder Gall

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Agricultural Agent

Last summer considerable damage was done to many maple trees in Pickaway County by the Bladder Gall.

A small, globular gall about 1-10 inch in diameter was extremely abundant on many of our maple trees last summer. There also is considerable deformation of the foliage, and trees that have a large proportion of the foliage affected may sustain a more or less premature dropping of the affected leaves.

These bladder like galls may be green or bright red, but as they develop change to reddish-purple and finally dry up and blacken toward the end of the summer.

A tiny mite which hibernates in crevices of wounds in the limbs or under rough bark on the trunks of trees is responsible for the gall. As the buds swell in the early spring these hibernating forms immigrate to the new leaves and puncture the tender tissues.

GALLS form at these points which serve as an abode for the mites in which they feed and reproduce. The eggs are deposited inside the gall where the young feed until they mature. In early fall the mature mites return to their winter quarters before the leaves begin to drop from the trees.

Usually the malformation of the leaf tissue causes no apparent injury to the tree. However, instances of severe defoliation may be injurious to the health of the tree.

No control measure is known that can be employed after the galls appear. The best control is to spray in early April, just before the buds are beginning to appear. Apply to the dormant trees a one part of lime sulfur to nine parts of water. Use care in applying lime sulfur since it will discolor woodwork and stain brick and walks. Malathion used at the rate of one pound (25 per cent) wettable powder per 25 gallons of water has also given good control.

Maxson Is President of Cattle Group

The Pickaway County Cattle Feeders, at their annual meeting and tour this month, elected Clarence Maxson, Route 1, Laurelville, as president of the Assn. Charles Rose, Williamsport, was elected vice president, and George Hamrick, secretary-treasurer.

The appointment of committees included: membership - Jewett Cromley, Frank Graves, and Homer Reber; tour - Roger May, Thomas Carter, and Dave Luckhart; youth - Joe Peters, Clyde Michel, and Robert Bower; banquet - Charles Rose, Orin Neal, and Kermit Douse.

The annual tour included stops at the following farms: Carter and Clifton, Jack Dunlap, Charles Rose, Ralph Stitt and Lloyd Drummond and Sons.

James Warner, extension beef specialist at Ohio State University, reminded the cattle feeders on the tour that "seventy-five acres of corn silage was equal to 100 acres of corn in the form of grain". He also warned farmers that if they were considering construction of new silo, that they should go to a maximum size. This will handle future increased volume that may not be anticipated at this time.

Mediator Predicts Decline in Strikes

NEW YORK (AP) — Union leaders are less likely to call strikes during the current recession, says Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

"It is too early to make a definite prediction," the chief mediator said, "but on the basis of our experience so far we anticipate fewer strikes than last year."

The recession has made workers realize "that the stuff isn't going to shake off the trees as readily as before," he said.

Eggs, Milk Are Recognized As Nearly Perfect Foods

By MRS. LEORA SAYRE
Home Economics Agent

Eggs and milk are recognized as nature's near perfect foods — nutrition as well as economy wise. March is National Egg Month. Therefore, since eggs and milk or milk products are so friendly in menu preparations, now seems a good time to "weigh" eggs and cheese.

Nutritionists recommend that eggs be included in the diet in some form every day, or at least four or five times a week. Egg consumption in the United States in 1957 was 366 eggs per person. This represents gradual decrease from a high of 402 per person in 1945.

Interior quality cannot be determined by looking on the outside of nature's pre-packaged egg. But food shoppers are not without a guide to interior egg quality. Federal-state grade standards indicated by a shield on the egg carton with the letters USDA and the grade classification A, B, or C are a sign of interior quality.

"C" GRADE eggs are good but the white is thicker and the yolks flat. The quality has been determined by a skilled egg grader who examines the unbroken egg before a strong light.

In order to maintain quality, eggs must be properly refrigerated. Eggs stored in the refrigerator will keep their good quality until used. The air cell in an egg is at the large end and to keep this air cell unbroken store eggs in cartons with small ends down.

This fact seems strange, but research shows that some sizes of egg are a better value at certain times of the year than others. Large eggs are a good value in late winter and early spring, while small and medium eggs hold the spotlight in late summer and early fall.

A good rule of thumb to follow when buying eggs of the same grade is: If there is less than eight cents difference between large and medium eggs or between medium and small eggs, the larger eggs are the better value.

In baking recipes these variations in egg sizes may be taken into account by using this formula: four large eggs equal five medium eggs or six small eggs or one cup measure.

Whatever the size, one may be sure of buying wisely by observing grade labels or package information.

USE CHEESE to please: There is a quaint saying that cheese is the poor man's meat and the gourmet's delight. Probably the proverb maker did not know how nutritious right he was in comparing cheese to meat, but the fact is that cheese contains the same kind of protein as meat.

It is fully qualified to serve as a main dish food. In a pound of cheese, there is the same protein as in two 4-5 quarts of milk. That is why cheese is called a concentrated food.

Milk production in recent years has been continually increasing at a rate of one to two per cent per year. This high production has resulted in an increased diversion of bottled milk to processed dairy products. About 11 per cent of the total milk produced goes into the production of cheese.

Though cheddar cheese originally came from England, it is by far the most popular cheese in America. This one variety makes up about 75 per cent of cheese produced in the country.

The longer a cheese ages, the more pronounced the flavor. Cheddar cheese usually costs more than mild cheese because of handling and storage costs during the aging process.

Five ounces of cheddar cheese contain more iron and vitamin A than one quart of milk and a half cup of cottage cheese contains the same amount of animal protein as three ounces of cooked lean meat. Three medium eggs, or 2 1/4 cups of milk.

There are too many people who do not consume sufficient amounts of milk or milk products. However, Ohioans drink more milk per person than the national average.

Eggs, Milk Are Recognized As Nearly Perfect Foods

By MRS. LEORA SAYRE
Home Economics Agent

Eggs and milk are recognized as nature's near perfect foods — nutrition as well as economy wise. March is National Egg Month. Therefore, since eggs and milk or milk products are so friendly in menu preparations, now seems a good time to "weigh" eggs and cheese.

Nutritionists recommend that eggs be included in the diet in some form every day, or at least four or five times a week. Egg consumption in the United States in 1957 was 366 eggs per person. This represents gradual decrease from a high of 402 per person in 1945.

Interior quality cannot be determined by looking on the outside of nature's pre-packaged egg. But food shoppers are not without a guide to interior egg quality. Federal-state grade standards indicated by a shield on the egg carton with the letters USDA and the grade classification A, B, or C are a sign of interior quality.

"C" GRADE eggs are good but the white is thicker and the yolks flat. The quality has been determined by a skilled egg grader who examines the unbroken egg before a strong light.

In order to maintain quality, eggs must be properly refrigerated. Eggs stored in the refrigerator will keep their good quality until used. The air cell in an egg is at the large end and to keep this air cell unbroken store eggs in cartons with small ends down.

This fact seems strange, but research shows that some sizes of egg are a better value at certain times of the year than others. Large eggs are a good value in late winter and early spring, while small and medium eggs hold the spotlight in late summer and early fall.

A good rule of thumb to follow when buying eggs of the same grade is: If there is less than eight cents difference between large and medium eggs or between medium and small eggs, the larger eggs are the better value.

In baking recipes these variations in egg sizes may be taken into account by using this formula: four large eggs equal five medium eggs or six small eggs or one cup measure.

Whatever the size, one may be sure of buying wisely by observing grade labels or package information.

Blend in 1 cup yellow corn meal, 9 slices cooked crisp bacon, finely snipped, 3 tablespoons finely diced green pepper, and 1/2 cup chopped pimiento. It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. ## Maples Damaged By Bladder Gall

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Agricultural Agent

Last summer considerable damage was done to many maple trees in Pickaway County by the Bladder Gall.

A small, globular gall about 1-10 inch in diameter was extremely abundant on many of our maple trees last summer. There also is considerable deformation of the foliage, and trees that have a large proportion of the foliage affected may sustain a more or less premature dropping of the affected leaves.

These bladder like galls may be green or bright red, but as they develop change to reddish-purple and finally dry up and blacken toward the end of the summer.

A tiny mite which hibernates in crevices of wounds in the limbs or under rough bark on the trunks of trees is responsible for the gall. As the buds swell in the early spring these hibernating forms immigrate to the new leaves and puncture the tender tissues.

GALLS form at these points which serve as an abode for the mites in which they feed and reproduce. The eggs are deposited inside the gall where the young feed until they mature. In early fall the mature mites return to their winter quarters before the leaves begin to drop from the trees.

Usually the malformation of the leaf tissue causes no apparent injury to the tree. However, instances of severe defoliation may be injurious to the health of the tree.

No control measure is known that can be employed after the galls appear. The best control is to spray in early April, just before the buds are beginning to appear. Apply to the dormant trees a one part of lime sulfur to nine parts of water. Use care in applying lime sulfur since it will discolor woodwork and stain brick and walks. Malathion used at the rate of one pound (25 per cent) wettable powder per 25 gallons of water has also given good control.

Maxson Is President of Cattle Group

The Pickaway County Cattle Feeders, at their annual meeting and tour this month, elected Clarence Maxson, Route 1, Laurelville, as president of the Assn.

Charles Rose, Williamsport, was elected vice president, and George Hamrick, secretary-treasurer.

The appointment of committees included: membership - Jewett Cromley, Frank Graves, and Homer Reber; tour - Roger May, Thomas Carter, and Dave Luckhart; youth - Joe Peters, Clyde Michel, and Robert Bower; banquet - Charles Rose, Orin Neal, and Kermit Dountz.

The annual tour included stops at the following farms: Carter and Clifton, Jack Dunlap, Charles Rose, Ralph Stitt and Lloyd Drummond and Sons.

James Warner, extension beef specialist at Ohio State University, reminded the cattle feeders on the tour that "seventy-five acres of corn silage was equal to 100 acres of corn in the form of grain". He also warned farmers that if they were considering construction of new silo, that they should go to a maximum size. This will handle future increased volume that may not be anticipated at this time.

Mediator Predicts Decline in Strikes

NEW YORK — Union leaders are less likely to call strikes during the current recession, says Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

"It is too early to make a definite prediction," the chief mediator said, "but on the basis of our experience so far we anticipate fewer strikes than last year."

The recession has made workers realize "that the stuff isn't going to shake off the trees as readily as before," he said.

AFTER YOU'VE SPRAYED on cologne from head to toe to create a fragrance foundation, apply perfume as an accent.

Fragrance Accents Women When Properly Applied

Birthdays and other gift-giving occasions often leave a woman with a vast supply of perfume. What to do with it?

Rule No. 1 is, don't open all bottles at once. They'll just evaporate and go to waste. Use one bottle until it's finished, then open a second.

Meanwhile, store your reserve supply carefully. Keep unopened bottles in a dark, cool place, away from sunshine and steam heat. Don't store too long, or the fragrance balance will be upset and spoil the scent.

When you do dip into birthday perfume, use it properly. There's a definite application technique! Don't dab perfume madly behind the ears and let it go at that. It's not enough! Do apply it systematically.

First, apply cologne over your entire body, to provide a foundation for the perfume.

SECOND, DAB ON perfume as an accent, applying to pulse spots, wrists, throat, inside elbows. Dab a dot or two on legs as well.

The head-to-toe technique works. The cologne base with strategic perfume accents makes the fragrance linger on and on, through an entire day. It makes people notice your perfume, but it doesn't bowl them over as it sometimes does when women concentrate perfume—too much of it—in one spot.

If you hesitate to entertain weekend guests because you dread the extra work, let them help you. Most guests enjoy being given something to do; it makes them feel at home. Also, it leaves you more relaxed so that you can help your guests have a better time.

AFTER YOU'VE SPRAYED on cologne from head to toe to create a fragrance foundation, apply perfume as an accent.

Fragrance Accents Women When Properly Applied

Birthdays and other gift-giving occasions often leave a woman with a vast supply of perfume. What to do with it?

Rule No. 1 is, don't open all bottles at once. They'll just evaporate and go to waste. Use one bottle until it's finished, then open a second.

Meanwhile, store your reserve supply carefully. Keep unopened bottles in a dark, cool place, away from sunshine and steam heat. Don't store too long, or the fragrance balance will be upset and spoil the scent.

When you do dip into birthday perfume, use it properly. There's a definite application technique! Don't dab perfume madly behind the ears and let it go at that. It's not enough! Do apply it systematically.

First, apply cologne over your entire body, to provide a foundation for the perfume.

SECOND, DAB ON perfume as an accent, applying to pulse spots, wrists, throat, inside elbows. Dab a dot or two on legs as well.

The head-to-toe technique works. The cologne base with strategic perfume accents makes the fragrance linger on and on, through an entire day. It makes people notice your perfume, but it doesn't bowl them over as it sometimes does when women concentrate perfume—too much of it—in one spot.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 22 and married to a wonderful man whom I love very much. Both of us will graduate from college in June. In presenting my problem I am speaking also for two other wives, in the same boat with me, circumstantially.

My husband and I have traveled extensively in Europe and Asia. We have been married two years, and have been postponing parenthood, due to schooling and finances. But I had other reasons too.

Now I am pregnant, and though I should be thrilled I am none too happy about it, and I feel guilty about my lack of enthusiasm. It isn't that I am a career woman at heart; or that I don't want to "bother" with children. It is the future of the world that scares and disgusts me.

Sputniks, radiation mutilations, space war, rockets, etc., are the basic problem. Also, American youth disgusts me; the cult of Jayne Mansfield and Elvis Presley; lipstick and dating at 13; rowdiness, etc. It is impossible to rear a child as you would like him to be.

I realize there is a stage when the gang, the peer group, is more important than the parent. But the gang of which I was a part at that stage was more of a good influence than bad. I know there are wonderful teenagers today, but they seem to be in the minority. What has happened to the wonderful growing-up years, that teenagers in other countries enjoy?

Where are our Tom Sawyers and Huckleberry Finns? Where are the clean open-faced children? — hidden under lipstick, ductal haircuts and sideburns now? I have talked to my pastor, but his counsel of "faith in God and humanity" fell dreadfully flat.

I have faith in God, but not in humanity — which, on the whole, doesn't seem to be greatly influenced by Him.

P.C.

DEAR P.C.: In effect you are rejecting life. Or rather, the proposition of becoming a responsible adult human being. You are making excuses for feeling no welcome in your heart, for your unborn child. Suddenly much of the world seems repugnant to you, owing to your physical and emotional reactions to the new life within you.

In voicing sick distaste for all the trademarks of adolescent extremism in America, you are really quarreling with your own recent history, I suspect. Unconsciously you are sorry now that you didn't linger longer in "the wonderful growing-up years, that teenagers in other countries enjoy."

You love your husband, of course, and revelled in the prerogatives of being married while still in school—until the purpose of nature overtook you. Since then, you've been in turmoil — rebellious, conflicted, anxiously unprepared to get ahead with the business of being a woman. You simply wanted girlhood unlimited—a carefree status, with husband added.

To make sense of your feelings about God and humanity bear in mind that you are God's agent in the human scene. If you observe that humanity seems to have strayed far from God, well, don't point the finger at other people. Study yourself. Just how close are you keeping to Him?—in trying to learn and do His will?

God has given you the gift of life, which you've enjoyed, in a heedless way, until the time has come to share that gift with another: namely, your child. At the prospect of doing God's work in that respect — creating life — you want to throw in the towel.

"Phooey to life," you say; "it doesn't look worth much to me." You need a bit of firsthand psychological help at this time, to bring you out of your panic state, about leaving girlhood behind and advancing serenely into the brave new world of parenthood. When your child is born, you will have a sense of priceless treasure bestowed upon you. And your outlook will mature, as you grow up to the requirements of being truly loving, protective and good in the mother-role.

Boy, 12, Insists He Knows His Law

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Justice of the Peace Clark Johnson was dissatisfied with the 12-year-old witness' testimony in a hearing. So he asked Max U. L. Lent if he was "conveniently" forgetting answers to questions.

"I have pledged under oath to tell the truth," replied young Max. "When I say I do not remember, I do not remember."

The hearing was for Max's mother, Mrs. Mary Virginia Lent, 36, of Phoenix, accused of embezzling a $4,800 sports car from a Tucson automobile agency.

And Max has no doubts about his legal acumen. He said he would take the Fifth Amendment next.

have button-on tabs and collars that can be monogrammed. Each blouse comes with a self-addressed envelope to be sent to a monogrammer with the detail to be marked either with initials or first name.

There's no charge for the trimming and no delay in wearing the blouses since they can be worn without tabs while waiting. They can be monogrammed in colors to harmonize or contrast with almost any outfit.

The spring handbags will be in printed silk with big summery roses in bright colors. Straw, too, is to be printed with flowers. Plastic bags will feature geometric designs as well as prints. Particularly new are the laminated cotton prints, a cloth covered with a film of clear, cleanable plastic. Some laminated bags will have colorful birds, flowers or novelty arrangements of flowers and nuts under clear plastic.

A line of straw bags from Japan sports flowers made from cellophane. Straws and baskets will be popular as well as plastic. The plastic now comes in rippled and pebbly grains.

Spring always makes us think of children and their escapades.

One little six-year-old was planning to spend the night with a friend. He did his own packing for the night wanting no help from "outsiders." He packed all his favorite toys as if he were going away for weeks.

To grown-up to kiss his mommie goodby, he got to the end of the stair land and weakly asked, "Do you 'spose maybe I ought to take my teddy bear?"

'Porgy, Bess' Is Vindicated

But Only 1 of Trio Of Creators Living

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Only one member of the trio who created "Porgy and Bess" survives to witness its vindication as an international work of art.

He is Ira Gershwin, wry, bald master of lyrics. With DuBose Heyward, author of the story, he penned the lyrics to the monumental score by George Gershwin. Now that "Porgy and Bess" is reaching the screen under the aegis of Sam Goldwyn, I dropped by Ira's house to bring him up to date.

He lives in a stunning modern home in Beverly Hills, surrounded by impressionist paintings and relics of the days when the Gershwin brothers were turning out great American music. Ira is recovering from an operation.

I asked him why "Porgy and Bess" took so long to reach the screen.

"We were always stymied by a legal matter concerning the Heyward estate," he explained. "Sam Goldwyn was the only one with enough resolution to step in and solve the problem."

"Recently I counted up the offers we have had for 'Porgy' over the years. There were 90. I was at

Supreme Court Ruling Seen Chilling Parodies by TV Star

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Will television feel any effects from the Supreme Court ruling that Jack Benny violated the copyright laws when he parodied the movie "Gaslight" on the home screen?

No pearls of wisdom on the matter can be squeezed from anyone in the industry here. For one thing, the court, equally divided on the question and thereby upholding a lower court's finding, did not issue any opinions that might generate public discussion of the ruling.

As reported in the news columns, it simply seems to mean that if you take quotations from a copyrighted work in spoofing it you must have the copyright holder's permission.

Both the play and movie "Gaslight" were chilling melodramas about a Victorian gentleman who tried to drive his wife insane. On Jan. 27, 1952 Benny presented a hilarious parody of "Gaslight" entitled "Autolight" over CBS-TV. Patrick Hamilton, the author, and Loew's, Inc., sued to enjoin showing the film of Benny's parody.

Actually, television felt the effects of the suit long before the Supreme Court ruling. If memory serves, we have not seen an all-out parody of any copyrighted work on television since the suit was filed. Television, as everyone knows, is a mighty cautious industry.

Issuing a personal opinion on the ruling, I'm sorry as a television viewer that Benny has lost the case. It's one more nail in the coffin that fate prepares for TV comedians. It further limits the area in which they are permitted to try to make us laugh.

Benny is a superb parodist. So is Sid Caesar. In fact, you cannot name a TV comedian who wouldn't like to do parody if the law permitted it.

Parody, which in the Greek implies a comic imitation of a serious poem, is just about the world's oldest form of humor. The first caveman who sang probably was parodied by a neighboring cave dweller.

Parody flourished in the 18th and 19th centuries. In this country it was notably practiced by Mark Twain, Josh Billings, Bret Harte

He will take part in the Democratic Day program of Ohio Wesleyan University's Institute of Practical Politics in Delaware Monday.

and, more recently, by Stephen Leacock. In short, parody is one of the most ancient and honorable forms of public entertainment. Suddenly to find it illegal is astonishing — and a little frightening in the area of freedom of expression.

Weekly Food Review

Fish and fowl will take the place of meat on many dinner tables this weekend, judging by the specials to be featured in the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores.

Fish offerings range from the less expensive smelts and cod or haddock fillets to items such as scallops and shad or halibut steaks.

The persevering shopper can find just about any kind of fowl, too. Most stores these days sell chicken parts. Some stores now offer a single price for different styles in broilers or fryers.

Beef prices were about unchanged this week, although the wholesale price went up again.

Cupid Influenced By Rustle of Cash

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau has reported what many men have long suspected: The fellow with the higher income is more likely to get the girl.

The bureau's study of marital status and income showed that 96½ per cent of men over 35 who have incomes of $6,000 and more are married. Only 71 per cent of those with income under $2,000 have wives.

Straight-facedly, the bureau commented: "These facts suggest that men with better-than-average earning power have the best chances of being selected as marriage partners."

Pork chops were higher in some areas, but eggs were down, two to six cents a dozen in most places. Egg experts say that from now on omelets should be progressively cheaper until hot weather hits and the hens lay fewer eggs.

Round steak or roast is most prominent among specials on beef, while picnic hams are frequently mentioned among pork cuts and leg of lamb is the most popular in that category.

Housewives can find good buys in potatoes, onions, spinach, carrots and broccoli. Fairly good buy are cabbage and asparagus.

Lettuce is sharply higher. Market men say it's because supplies from California's Imperial Valley are tapering off and lettuce from Arizona and other sections of California is just getting started.

A few boxes of strawberries are available at fairly high prices, with a drop expected when the Louisiana crop starts coming in around April 1.

NEW YORK — Will television feel any effects from the Supreme Court ruling that Jack Benny violated the copyright laws when he parodied the movie "Gaslight" on the home screen?

No pearls of wisdom on the matter can be squeezed from anyone in the industry here. For one thing, the court, equally divided on the question and thereby upholding a lower court's finding, did not issue any opinions that might generate public discussion of the ruling.

As reported in the news columns, it simply seems to mean that if you take quotations from a copyrighted work in spoofing it you must have the copyright holder's permission.

Both the play and movie "Gaslight" were chilling melodramas about a Victorian gentleman who tried to drive his wife insane. On Jan. 27, 1952 Benny presented a hilarious parody of "Gaslight" entitled "Autolight" over CBS-TV. Patrick Hamilton, the author, and Loew's, Inc., sued to enjoin showing the film of Benny's parody.

Actually, television felt the effects of the suit long before the Supreme Court ruling. If memory serves, we have not seen an all-out parody of any copyrighted work on television since the suit was filed. Television, as everyone knows, is a mighty cautious industry.

Issuing a personal opinion on the ruling, I'm sorry as a television viewer that Benny has lost the case. It's one more nail in the coffin that fate prepares for TV comedians. It further limits the area in which they are permitted to try to make us laugh.

Benny is a superb parodist. So is Sid Caesar. In fact, you cannot name a TV comedian who wouldn't like to do parody if the law permitted it.

Parody, which in the Greek implies a comic imitation of a serious poem, is just about the world's oldest form of humor. The first caveman who sang probably was parodied by a neighboring cave dweller.

Parody flourished in the 18th and 19th centuries. In this country it was notably practiced by Mark Twain, Josh Billings, Bret Harte

Death of Lawrence County Girl, 4, Boosts Interest in Dreaded Rabies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—On the day before Christmas last year, 4-year-old Pamela Dillon was playing with a stray dog near her home in Coal Grove, a small community just east of Ironton in Lawrence County. The dog bit her.

Forty six days later—Feb. 8—Pamela died of rabies. News of her death spread quickly and 16 others in Coal Grove who came in contact, or believed they came in contact, with the dog, hastily signed up for anti-rabies inoculations.

For several days late in February and early this month, two dogs roamed the communities of Highland Bend and Scioto Dale in Scioto County. Both died, and Scioto County health officials sent the dogs' heads to the state health department laboratory in Columbus for examination.

On March 4, the laboratory completed its analysis—that both dogs had died of Rabies. Within 10 days 31 residents of the two communities—most of them children—similarly had signed up for anti-rabies shots.

Pamela Dillon's death was the first recorded in Ohio in three years. And the two incidents brought into focus the ever-present threat of, and the health department's never-ending fight against, rabies, the incurable disease.

Here in Columbus, Dr. Ralph A. Masterson, veterinarian with the communicable diseases division of the Ohio Department of Health, related what little is known of the disease.

Rabies, he said, is a virus capable of dwelling in any warm-blooded animal. Dogs are the most common carriers. But every year the division receives reports of raccoons, skunks, cows, totes, wolves and even bats dying of rabies.

The rabies virus, Dr. Masterson continued, enters its victim only through the saliva of an already rabid animal, and inhabits the victim's nervous system.

Unless caught and neutralized by an anti-rabies shot, the virus moves slowly to the brain and lodges in the central nervous system. When it reaches the brain, the disease enters what is known as the clinical stage. And once it reaches the clinical stage, Dr. Masterson said, it is always fatal.

How much time elapses from the initial entry of the virus until it reaches the clinical stage? It varies, says Dr. Masterson, upon the distance of the point of contact from the brain and on the age of the victim. A bite on the neck brings a victim to the final stage sooner than a bite on the leg, or the foot. Children are more susceptible to rabies than adults.

The elapsed time—called the incubation period—usually ranges from about 18 days to three months, and in rare instances, to as much as six months.

When the virus reaches the brain, encephalitis—swelling of the brain—sets in and the disease attacks the nervous system. What follows ordinarily causes great pain, Dr. Masterson said. The brain swells, but the bone cavity of the head cannot give, and the ensuing pressure brings excruciating headaches. Moreover, the brain is unable to control the victim's muscles and nerves, so that paralysis usually sets in during the final hours.

A curious effect of rabies is the inordinate fear of water it instills in its victim. In fact, says Dr. Masterson, rabies is commonly called hydrophobia, and the veterinarian tells of cases where nothing more than the sight of water brings on spasms in the victim's throat so severe that they cough blood.

Rabies has been recognized as a cause of death in humans since the first century A. D., yet it wasn't until 1883 that the French scientist, Louis Pasteur, discovered a means of preventing death. An injection of Pasteur vaccine is still the treatment commonly used by most health boards and physicians.

The Pasteur treatment calls for an inoculation of spinal tissue from a rabbit that had earlier been injected with the rabies virus. Over the years its use has been highly successful, Dr. Masterson said. But at times dogbite victims are reluctant to submit to it because of the possibility of paralysis. Dr. Masterson said the Pasteur treatment seems to bring on

Hearing Scheduled For Slayer of Tots

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—John W. Turner, 33, charged with throwing his small daughter and son into the Ohio River last Thursday night, will receive a preliminary hearing Friday.

Ohio County Prosecutor Thomas P. O'Brien arranged for the hearing to take place before Magistrate Carl J. Fisher at 2 p. m.

The body of one of the Turner children, 7-year-old Betty Marie, was found Tuesday at dam 13 at McMechen. From an autopsy held at Ohio Valley General Hospital, drowning was determined as the cause of death.

Betty Marie's brother, John Jr., 4, is still missing. The river is being searched for his body.

paralysis in about one out of every 4,000 cases.

Other methods of preventing rabies are available, although most of them follow the Pasteur principle. But physicians are generally inclined to stay with the long and proven history of success. Research into rabies preventative, is, as Dr. Masterson puts it, obviously difficult. How many human beings are going to volunteer themselves for research in a disease that, once it reaches a certain stage, cannot be cured?

Records in Dr. Masterson's office indicate that fight against rabies in Ohio has been successful. Since 1922, 112 human deaths have been recorded. All but a handful of them occurred before 1947. Pamela Dillon's death last month was the first since 1955, the second since 1953.

What has been responsible for Ohio's success?

Public education, says Dr. Masterson, and the widespread use of dog vaccinations. Today, Scioto and Lawrence counties, where the incidence of rabies is highest, have compulsory dog vaccination programs in effect. In Lawrence County alone, during the 10 days prior to March 11, some 1,700 dogs have been vaccinated against rabies.

A year ago, a compulsory dog vaccination program was begun in Jackson County, then the rabies center of Ohio. Since then, not a single rabid dog has been reported.

Appeals Court Sets Hearing On Release of Amish Couple

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—The Ninth District Court of Appeals has ordered a hearing Monday on an application for a writ of habeas corpus for the release of three Amish couples held in Wayne County jail for contempt of court.

Presiding Judge Oscar Hunsicker issued the order Wednesday at the request of attorneys who are donating their services. The couples who have refused to surrender their truant sons to custody of the county.

The couples—Mr. and Mrs. John Hershberger, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Slabaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Eli Hershberger—were jailed March 12 by Probate Judge Don J. Young Jr. of Norwalk. The judge said he would keep them in jail "from now to summer" if the children were not turned over to authorities.

Judge Young ordered the children surrendered to custody of the county following a hearing in January at which it was brought out that the parents had not sent them to school since they finished the eighth grade last June.

The county took custody of two other Amish children, who are staying at the county children's home and attending high school.

Ohio law requires that a child attend school until 16 years of age. The couples in jail contend that schooling beyond the eighth grade is contrary to their religious beliefs.

Amish friends and neighbors of the Hershbergers and the Slabaughs flocked to the jail to visit

Grass Seed Buyer Told: Read Label

COLUMBUS (AP)—The smart grass seed buyer pays more attention to the dry statistics on the label than the pretty picture, State Agriculture Director James R. Hay believes.

Lawn grass and clover seeds come in thousands of different packages and under numerous brand names, Dr. Hay pointed out. Ohio law says the package label must tell the name of the seed, a list of types that goes to make up a mixture, a percentage figure to show how many seeds actually will germinate, the percentage of non-noxious weed seed and a date the lot was tested.

State Finance In Good Shape Despite Slump

Some Penny-Pinching
Needed To Avoid Call
For New Ohio Taxes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio is in good financial condition and we expect to keep it that way, says State Finance Director John A. Skipton.

He believes some penny-pinching in government spending during the recession will make it unnecessary for Ohioans to dig deeper into their pocketbooks later to pay new taxes.

Skipton is under fire from some quarters for economies and financial controls imposed on orders of Gov. C. William O'Neill to compensate for shrinking sales tax revenues, the state's largest single tax source.

Skipton's major problem is to effect savings without appreciable curtailment of essential services. He explained that more than half of the state's 900 million dollar general fund goes for local benefits and individual services "in areas where we can't squeeze."

They include school subsidies, poor relief and indigent medical care.

He said about 46 per cent of general revenues go for local benefits and 16 per cent for state assistance programs. That leaves only 38 per cent of the budget subject to economies, and the state is "taking it on the chin," he says.

"When you try to keep the budget balanced under those circumstances, it magnifies the pinch," Skipton continued. "I have not made any cuts yet. They may be necessary. I have asked them to hold the line."

Despite a proposal to save six million dollars in the mental health department by not replacing employees who leave and by other economies, Skipton said more people are caring for state hospital patients than a year ago.

Skipton expressed confidence that Ohio will weather the recession in good shape and continue its progress towards becoming the nation's No. 1 industrial state.

"That will mean our revenues will be better," he said. "Any way you look at it, Ohio will not suffer as much as other states. Ohio will get by without new taxes."

He said Michigan is eyeing a 21 million dollar increase in that state's tax on intangibles; West Virginia is considering 52 million dollars in new taxes; New York wants a 43 million dollar boost in state revenues; Maryland is seeking 37 million dollars in additional income and New Jersey calls for a 62 million dollar tax boost to balance its budget.

Skipton said Ohio tax revenues are holding up well, except for the sales tax. He explained that sales tax receipts reflect a recession quickly because it applies to things such as automobiles that people buy on the installment plan.

"People want to be back at work for a few months before they go into debt again," he observed.

Skipton describes himself as a "fiscal man" who must adapt to financial conditions in the state without regard to politics and says that is what he is attempting to do.

Sales Tax Income Said on Decline

COLUMBUS (AP)—Tax commissioner Stanley J. Bowers is appealing to Ohio citizens to demand sales tax stamps.

Sales tax revenues have declined sharply lately. The state collected $10,985,000 in sales taxes during the four-week period that ended March 1. The year before the four-week collection amounted to $13,599,000, a drop this year of about 20 per cent.

Ex-Navy Chief Raps Policy of Stop-and-Go

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Former Secretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball says the United States has been placed in a position for "direct assault by an aggressor" by a "stop-and-go" policy of national defense.

In a speech before the 15th annual Greater Akron Safety Conference Wednesday night, Kimball, now president of Aerojet-General Corp., said:

"We could have built a successful satellite 10 years ago if we had concentrated on it. Starting and stopping is what has slowed down our missile and satellite programs during the last 10 years and jeopardized our safety by letting the Russians catch up because we weren't going ahead fast enough or steadily enough."

He contends the Russians have more than 500 submarines and "an atomic army which is numerically superior to anything we can put in the field."

Stressing the need for instant readiness to retaliate in the event of an attack, Kimball said the United States must now concentrate on something newer and better than the manned bomber, which he said is in the process of becoming obsolete.

He said it won't be too long before B47s and B52s are museum pieces like Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis" and the model-T Ford.

"Rocket-propelled missiles of great power and accuracy are the primary weapons upon which we must depend in the years ahead for defense and retaliation," Kimball declared.

Kimball, who served as Navy secretary under former President Truman from 1951-53, said the rocket and missile industry is just waiting for the "go ahead" signal from Uncle Sam to do even greater things.

New School District

Ruling Is Outlined

COLUMBUS (AP)—The attorney general has ruled that a county board of education can divide a local school district in two parts and thus, in effect, create two new districts out of one.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe held that certain statutory requirements must be met and each of the two districts must maintain a high school. A favorable vote on a proposed division of a local school district requires a majority of votes in the existing local school district rather than each of the proposed smaller districts.

Finance News Gets Big Play On Front Page

Economy Increases
In Importance in
Many Developments

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—It's getting harder today to tell the front page of your newspaper from the business-financial page. Look at the headlines of both pages this week:

On the front page among stories on the love life of entertainment stars, the outer space life of Vanguard, Explorers and Sputniks, the international jockeying for rail position in the summit meeting — all usually with overtones of money, industrial production or world trade — are such out and out fiscal and economic headlines as these:

Bank reserves cut to free three billion dollars of credit; industrial output in sharp drop; tax cut plans debated; two billion dollars proposed for public works; plan federal loans to states for jobless benefits; big inflationary federal deficit feared; American oil companies caught in middle in Indonesian civil war; exports decline; farm price props by treasury debated.

Then look at these stories' stablemates on the financial page: U. S. crop acreage to drop further; Big Steel calls federal taxes confiscatory; stock market reacts to Washington reports; mail order house cuts prices to bolster sales; new security offerings flock to market; profits rise for an oil firm; drop for a metal company; appliance manufacturer sees sales comeback in making.

All echo the same problems that are aired on the front page. What does this add up to? Probably to the fact that, like it or not, business news is front page again. Economic news is closer than ever today to your pocketbook, the worker's job, to the merchant's chance of breaking even to the manufacturer's prospect for getting up full steam again.

Sometimes business news moves onto the front page when the economy is on the uptick — as fortunately it had been for several years. And it hits the front page when business is on the downturn — as unfortunately it is today.

But before you let the front page emphasis get you down, the big thing to remember is this: the downturn, although probably more pronounced than at any time since the war, isn't really too bad yet.

and may not become too much worse.

And the downswing started from the highest peak our economy ever reached. Therefore, if the recession follows the path of the two previous ones, the bottom would be considerably higher than the low point they reached.

Salvation Army To Build

State To Continue Poor Relief Matching

State Aide Suspended

COLUMBUS (AP)—B. D. Morgan Co. of Middletown won a $182,863 contract Wednesday from the Salvation Army's Cincinnati headquarters to build new facilities at the Army's Camp Swoney near Lebanon.

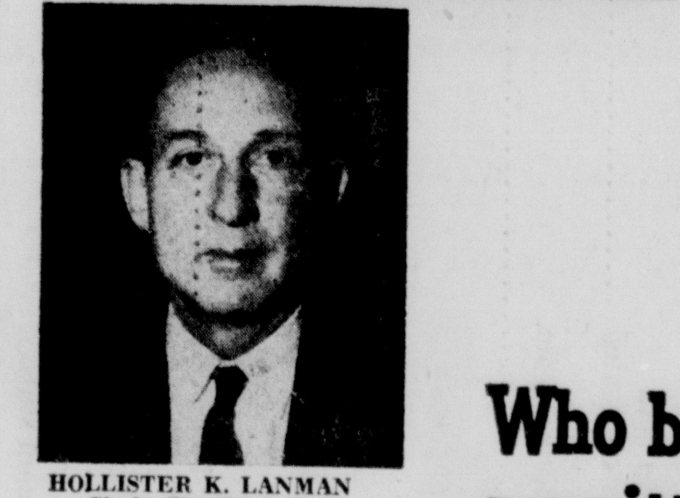

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill has told his Cabinet the state will continue to match county relief expenditures despite increased demands.

O'Neill said Wednesday that "we are going to keep our pledge" to match county relief funds despite a report by the assistant welfare director, Richard C. Minor, that 5,000 new cases were added to relief rolls in Ohio last month.

COLUMBUS (AP)—William O. Grimm, a former East Liverpool resident living in Dayton, has been suspended from his job as liquor investigator for 30 days for violating Liquor Department regulations.

State Finance In Good Shape Despite Slump

Some Penny-Pinching
Needed To Avoid Call
For New Ohio Taxes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio is in good financial condition and we expect to keep it that way, says State Finance Director John A. Skipton.

He believes some penny-pinching in government spending during the recession will make it unnecessary for Ohioans to dig deeper into their pocketbooks later to pay new taxes.

Skipton is under fire from some quarters for economies and financial controls imposed on orders of Gov. C. William O'Neill to compensate for shrinking sales tax revenues, the state's largest single tax source.

Skipton's major problem is to effect savings without appreciable curtailment of essential services. He explained that more than half of the state's 900 million dollar general fund goes for local benefits and individual services "in areas where we can't squeeze." They include school subsidies, poor relief and indigent medical care.

He said about 46 per cent of general revenues go for local benefits and 16 per cent for state assistance programs. That leaves only 38 per cent of the budget subject to economies, and the state is "taking it on the chin," he says.

"When you try to keep the budget balanced under these circumstances, it magnifies the pinch," Skipton continued. "I have not made any cuts yet. They may be necessary. I have asked them to hold the line."

Despite a proposal to save six million dollars in the mental health department by not replacing employees who leave and by other economies, Skipton said more people are caring for state hospital patients than a year ago.

Skipton expressed confidence that Ohio will weather the recession in good shape and continue its progress towards becoming the nation's No. 1 industrial state.

"That will mean our revenues will be better," he said. "Any way you look at it, Ohio will not suffer as much as other states. Ohio will get by without new taxes."

He said Michigan is eyeing a 21 million dollar increase in that state's tax on intangibles; West Virginia is considering 52 million dollars in new taxes; New York wants a 43 million dollar boost in state revenues; Maryland is seeking 37 million dollars in additional income and New Jersey calls for a 62 million dollar tax boost to balance its budget.

Skipton said Ohio tax revenues are holding up well, except for the sales tax. He explained that sales tax receipts reflect a recession quickly because it applies to things such as automobiles that people buy on the installment plan.

"People want to be back at work for a few months before they go into debt again," he observed.

Skipton describes himself as a "fiscal man" who must adapt to financial conditions in the state without regard to politics and says that is what he is attempting to do.

Sales Tax Income Said on Decline

COLUMBUS (AP)—Tax commissioner Stanley J. Bowers is appealing to Ohio citizens to demand sales tax stamps.

Sales tax revenues have declined sharply lately. The state collected $10,985,000 in sales taxes during the four-week period that ended March 1. The year before the four-week collection amounted to $13,599,000, a drop this year of about 20 per cent.

Ex-Navy Chief Raps Policy of Stop-and-Go

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Former Secretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball says the United States has been placed in a position for "direct assault by an aggressor" by a "stop-and-go" policy of national defense.

In a speech before the 15th annual Greater Akron Safety Conference Wednesday night, Kimball, now president of Aerojet-General Corp., said:

"We could have built a successful satellite 10 years ago if we had concentrated on it. Starting and stopping is what has slowed down our missile and satellite programs during the last 10 years and jeopardized our safety by letting the Russians catch up because we weren't going ahead fast enough or steadily enough."

He contends the Russians have more than 500 submarines and "an atomic army which is numerically superior to anything we can put in the field."

Stressing the need for instant readiness to retaliate in the event of an attack, Kimball said the United States must now concentrate on something newer and better than the manned bomber, which he said is in the process of becoming obsolete.

He said it won't be too long before B47s and B52s are museum pieces like Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis" and the model-T Ford. "Rocket-propelled missiles of great power and accuracy are the primary weapons upon which we must depend in the years ahead for defense and retaliation," Kimball declared.

Kimball, who served as Navy secretary under former President Truman from 1951-53, said the rocket and missile industry is just waiting for the "go ahead" signal from Uncle Sam to do even greater things.

New School District Ruling Is Outlined

COLUMBUS (AP)—The attorney general has ruled that a county board of education can divide a local school district in two parts and thus, in effect, create two new districts out of one.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe held that certain statutory requirements must be met and each of the two districts must maintain a high school. A favorable vote on a proposed division of a local school district requires a majority of votes in the existing local school district rather than each of the proposed smaller districts.

Finance News Gets Big Play On Front Page

Economy Increases
In Importance in
Many Developments

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—It's getting harder today to tell the front page of your newspaper from the business-financial page. Look at the headlines of both pages this week:

On the front page among stories on the love life of entertainment stars, the outer space life of Van Guards, Explorers and Sputniks, the international jockeying for rail position in the summit meeting — all usually with overtones of money, industrial production or world trade — are such out and out fiscal and economic headlines as these:

Bank reserves cut to free three billion dollars of credit; industrial output in sharp drop; tax cut plans debated; two billion dollars proposed for public works; plan federal loans to states for jobless benefits; big inflationary federal deficit feared; American oil companies caught in middle in Indonesian civil war; exports decline; farm price props by treasury debated.

Then look at these stories' stablemates on the financial page:

U. S. crop acreage to drop further; Big Steel calls federal taxes confiscatory; stock market reacts to Washington reports; mail order house cuts prices to bolster sales; new security offerings flock to market; profits rise for an oil firm; drop for a metal company; appliance manufacturer sees sales comeback in making.

All echo the same problems that are aired on the front page.

What does this add up to? Probably to the fact that, like it or not, business news is front page again. Economic news is closer than ever today to your pocketbook, the worker's job, to the merchant's chance of breaking even to the manufacturer's prospect for getting up full steam again.

Sometimes business news moves onto the front page when the economy is on the uptick — as fortunately it had been for several years. And it hits the front page when business is on the downturn — as unfortunately it is today.

But before you let the front page emphasis get you down, the big thing to remember is this: the downturn, although probably more pronounced than at any time since the war, isn't really too bad yet.

and may not become too much worse.

And the downswing started from the highest peak our economy ever reached. Therefore, if the recession follows the path of the two previous ones, the bottom would be considerably higher than the low point they reached.

Salvation Army To Build

CINCINNATI (AP)—B. D. Morgan Co. of Middletown won a $182,863 contract Wednesday from the Salvation Army's Cincinnati headquarters to build new facilities at the Army's Camp Swomeky near Lebanon.

State To Continue Poor Relief Matching

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill has told his Cabinet the state will continue to match county relief expenditures despite increased demands. O'Neill said Wednesday that "we are going to keep our pledge" to match county relief funds despite a report by the assistant welfare director, Richard C. Minor, that 5,000 new cases were added to relief rolls in Ohio last month.

Is Jerry Lucas Ohio's Latest Cage Legend?

Waterloo Wonders
Fade as Big Middle
Star Chalks Records

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For more than two decades, as Ohio's high school cagers near the state tournament, big conversations have centered around memories of the famed Waterloo Wonders.

The Hill Country Kids, most colorful combination ever to appear in the title classic, won Class B laurels in 1934 and 1935. Legends about them have grown through the years, but the facts generally are more astounding than the fantasies.

But little is being heard of Coach Magellan Hairston's crew of magicians of the mid-thirties as seven unbeaten, and one thrice-defeated, quintets approach Friday's playoffs.

The big topic this time is: "What will Lucas do?"

That would be Jerry Lucas, the 6-10 straight-A student, three-time All-Ohio star of Middletown's defending champions. The tall kid is the kingpin of the most sensational basketball show in the Buckeye realm.

He has never played with a losing team in junior or senior high school, and he has paced Coach Paul Walker's Middies to two straight state titles. With his sensational scoring, the Middies have won 76 straight contests.

His 30-foot jump shot in the final second to tie Toledo Ma-cumber in last year's state semifinals has been heralded as the greatest under-pressure two-point shot in Ohio history. No one who saw it will ever forget.

Jerry has played in four state tournament games as a sophomore and junior. He holds every scoring record for the big event, which goes into its 36th runoff Friday.

In 24 games this season Lucas has scored 775 points, and his 76-game career total is 2,435. No one in Ohio has ever approached that figure.

But in the state tournaments, up against the hottest opposition possible, Lucas has been at his best. In four tournament contests Middletown has scored 324 points. Of them Lucas has contributed 171, the rest of the squad 153. Jerry is averaging 43.7 for the four tilts.

He holds the scoring records for a single game (53), two games (97), three games (143) and four games (171) in tournament play, and the same marks for field goals and free throws—a dozen records for his deft touch.

In his first tournament game, as a sophomore, he had quarters of 10-14-16-13 against Cleveland East Tech, then came back for 14-12-10-8 against Canton McKinley. Last year he scored 8-11-10-12-5 in the overtime tilt against Macomber, and then Kent Roosevelt's sensational Charley Boykin held him to 6-8-8-6 in the final.

In the four games he scored from the free throw line on 13 of 15, 8 of 10, 14 of 16 and 12 of 13.

The kid bows out of scholastic competition this weekend and, although he'll be up against unbeaten teams all the way, he figures to push his records out of sight. He'll wait until June to decide which college will get his services.

He's the biggest game Ohio's happy hunting grounds have ever offered the collegiate talent hunters.

Young Billy O'Dell Sparkles On Mound for Baltimore '9'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This could be the year the Baltimore Orioles can quit "nursing along" Billy O'Dell, the southpaw pitcher who jumped right out of the Clemson College in 1954 via the bonus route and into a major league uniform.

O'Dell, only 25, became the

Low Blow Brings Draw In Match

WASHINGTON (AP)—The middleweight series between Willie Vaughn and Jimmy Beecham is still at a stalemate because of a low blow.

They met Wednesday night in what was billed as the rubber punch in their ring feud. But they wound up in a draw after 10 blistering rounds.

Vaughn would have nailed the decision had it not been for a belly punch in the fourth round. Referee Marty Gallagher, Beecham and many at the scene—Willie excepted—thought the blow landed below Jimmy's waist. It cost Vaughn a point and, as it turned out, the fight.

While 25-year-old Vaughn and Beecham, 23, protested loudly for lack of a decision, neither the Capitol Arena nor TV audience could beef for lack of action.

There were not knockdowns, but in the third the eighth ranked contender from Los Angeles staggered Beecham with a whistling left and right. Beecham, who boxes out of Miami, recovered quickly and kept banging away at the head of his opponent.

Vaughn won the decision when they first clashed on Feb. 4. One month later unranked Beecham got the nod, and after Wednesday night they're still even.

Teams Gathering For NCAA Battles

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky's Johnny Cox has reinjured a finger on his right hand, but he's expected to play against Temple Friday night in the NCAA Basketball Championships.

Cox's finger was painfully swollen Wednesday and he missed practice.

The Wildcats, Temple and Kansas State are due to arrive today and hold practice sessions at 18,500-seat Freedom Hall.

Seattle, the other finalist, arrived Wednesday night. Coach John Castellani said, "Everybody is in good shape."

first hurler in the majors to go nine innings this spring when he defeated the Chicago Cubs with a 7-hitter Wednesday at Mesa, Ariz. Of course, O'Dell played in the Cuban winter league, and is further advanced than other mounds-men.

Chicago scored three runs off O'Dell in the first inning, two coming on Lee Walls' home run, but the young lefty from Newberry, S.C., blanked the Cubs from then on.

Five games were cancelled, all in Florida, because of rain or wet grounds. The Kansas City Athletics defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-7 in 12 innings at Ft. Myers, Fla., and the San Francisco Giants were beaten 6-3 by the Cleveland Indians at Phoenix, Ariz.

O'Dell had a 1-1 record with Baltimore in 1954, when the club said "we'll nurse him along..." In 1955 and through August of 1956 he was in the Army. He had a 4-10 record last year.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, former St. Louis Cardinals star southpaw and Orioles pitching coach, has been tutoring O'Dell since he left college.

O'Dell walked one batter and struck out six Cubs Wednesday. He admits he still has a lot to learn.

Brecheen predicted, "He'll be a great one..."

Celtics, Hawks Heavily Favored

NEW YORK (AP)—The Boston Celtics and St. Louis Hawks, divisional champions in the regular season, have grabbed 1-0 leads in the National Basketball Assn. semifinal playoffs.

Victories Wednesday night made both teams heavy favorites to win the best-of-seven series.

The Celtics defeated the Philadelphia Warriors 107-98 while St. Louis came from behind to whip the Detroit Pistons 114-111.

The teams will rest until Saturday when the competition moves to Detroit and Philadelphia. The Pistons-Hawks game will be nationally televised at 2 p. m.

Bailey Changes Plans To Sharpen His Hitting

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Ed Bailey, slugging front-line catcher for the Cincinnati Redlegs, admits he hasn't been hitting well in spring training, but says he has a system.

"During the remainder of the exhibition season, I'm not going to try and pull a single pitch," he said Wednesday. "I'm going to concentrate on hitting to all fields."

Baseball No Longer Rates As Top Sport

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball is no longer "America's national pastime," the facts say.

Basketball draws the most spectators. Horse racing takes in the most money. And, as for participant sports, Americans go for bowling, fishing and hunting.

Baseball trails in most comparisons.

According to a survey, basketball attendance for 1956-57 was 142,848,698. No other sport begins to touch this figure but no other sport offers as many games.

Horse racing, both the flats and trotters, drew 53,820,958. In professional baseball in 1957, the major leagues attracted 17,015,819 and the minors 15,496,684 for a total of 32,512,503.

College football brought in 13,931,295 and pros attracted 2,836,318 for an aggregate 16,767,613.

The race tracks had total receipts of $254,811,000—topping all recreation phases except the movies and country clubs.

Baseball's receipts were $53,410,000—even less than the billiard parlors, which brought in $74,981,000.

Basilio, Sugar Tapering Off For Big Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—Challenger Sugar Ray Robinson, close to the 160-pound limit, may take a rest in his training sessions today while middleweight champion Carmen Basilio does road work.

One of Basilio's managers, John DeJohn, said the champion is "tapering off" in drills for his title defense in Chicago Stadium Tuesday night.

"Yeah, I'm tapering off," said Basilio. "I didn't work more than 6-7 rounds yesterday."

Basilio admitted his weight was under 154.

Both fighters passed their pre-fight physical examinations with ease Wednesday, but there were some verbal fireworks among their spokesmen.

Robinson's adviser, George Gainford, said Basilio's handlers used a cut lotion containing chloroform in their September fight in New York Yankee Stadium. They said the stuff got into Robinson's eyes during clinches.

Gainford also said grease was applied to Basilio's back and got on Robinson's gloves.

Joe Netto and John DeJohn, Basilio's managers, countered by calling the Robinson handlers "a bunch of crybabies."

Flyers, Bonnies Favored in NIT

Xavier, St. John's
Disagree with Odds

NEW YORK (AP)—Top-ranked Dayton and third-seeded St. Bonaventure are favored to win semifinal games in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament tonight. But the coaches of the underdog teams think the odds are out of line.

"I don't think my team will cool off—the momentum should keep us going," said coach Jim McCafferty of Xavier (Ohio) which takes on St. Bonaventure in the second game at Madison Square Garden. And, said Joe Lapchick of St. John's, which goes against Dayton in the opener, "The teams are evenly matched."

The Flyers (24-3) are rated four point choices over St. John's (18-8) while St. Bonaventure (20-4) is figured three points better than Xavier (17-11).

St. Bonaventure coach Ed Donovan is worried about Xavier and he has a right to be. The Musketeers from Cincinnati dumped Niagara and then eliminated defending champion Bradley to reach the semis.

St. Bonaventure will be at a disadvantage in height. But the Bonnies had the same trouble with St. Joseph's and came out on top 79-75.

Dayton, which has made seven previous NIT appearances beat Fordham 74-70 in the quarterfinals.

"We should do better against St. John's," said Flyers' coach Tom Blackburn. "We hadn't played since March 4 and we were very rusty."

The championship game will be played Saturday afternoon. It will be televised in most sections of the country (4:30 p. m. EST, CBS).

Calumet Grooming Another Champ?

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Veteran observers agreed today that Calumet Farm may come out of Florida this spring with another Kentucky Derby winner.

This time it's Tim Tam, dark brown son of Tom Fool out of Two Lea, who is being counted on to duplicate the feat of Iron Liege, the derby winner last year.

Tim Tam raced only once as a 2-year-old but in seven outings this winter has won five and finished third twice, earning $138,775. Biggest of these was the Flamingo Stakes.

Tim Tam's latest race was Wednesday's Fountain of Youth Stakes at Gulfstream Park.

Against the Giants in Los Angeles Sunday and lost.

Righthander Bob Lemon, who underwent an elbow operation last fall, has been pitching batting practice almost every other day and may test his arm in a game over the weekend.

Farmers, Sportsmen Suggest Changes in 1958 Game Laws

A fish and game law hearing conducted at Memorial Hall last night was attended by approximately 40 farmers, sportsmen and wildlife officials.

The group made several recommendations for changes in 1958 hunting and fishing laws. The recommended changes will be submitted at a District No. 5 hearing slated for May 14.

A significant change passed last night was a motion to discontinue gillnet fishing. The group voted to accept most of the other fish laws as they were written in 1957.

Changes in hunting laws included a recommendation to extend the rabbit season 15 days. The group also voted to extend the last day of pheasant season from December 7 to December 15. The bird season usually starts November 15.

THE FARMERS and sportsmen also carried a motion to increase the gun season on deer from four to five days.

Along with this move they approved a recommendation that the gun season on deer start December 3. Last year the season was December 11-14.

The group also favored a move which would give the state a split deer season. The plan calls for northern Ohio to have a season similar to Michigan and the southern half of the state would have a season comparable to Kentucky.

Walter Richards was named the farmer delegate to attend the district hearing at Chillicothe in May. Lawrence Liston was selected as the farmer alternate.

Bob Wolf was elected to represent local sportsmen at the meeting and Bob Rader was named his alternate.

Cooper Defending His St. Pete Title

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—If Pete Cooper can put together four rounds of golf as neatly as he did a year ago, the Florida-born veteran should be able to annex his second straight title of the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open.

The 42-year-old Cooper fired a nifty 269—15 strokes under par—for his victory on this same course a year ago. Par for the 6,387-yard Pasadena Golf Club course is 71.

About 150 are entered here but such luminaries as Jack Burke Jr., Cary Middlecoff, Jimmy Demaret, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Ken Venturi and Tommy Bolt couldn't make it this time.

Porcupines are devastating menaces to tree farmers for porcupines' favorite dessert is to chew up a healthy young tree. Moreover, reports one Oregon tree farmer, they will eat anything, including dynamite.

Ray Riethmiller, district fish management head, gave a brief report on Hargus Creek Lake. He said stocking at the lake is about finished and that a test netting will be run in May and again later in the year.

Riethmiller also noted that an attempt will be made to clear some of the brush along shoreline to permit fishermen an easier access to the lake. He said the water level would be dropped about 10 feet to allow this work to be done.

Is Jerry Lucas Ohio's Latest Cage Legend?

Waterloo Wonders Fade as Big Middle Star Chalks Records

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For more than two decades, as Ohio's high school eagles near the state tournament, big conversations have centered around memories of the famed Waterloo Wonders.

The Hill Country Kids, most colorful combination ever to appear in the title classic, won Class B laurels in 1934 and 1935. Legends about them have grown through the years, but the facts generally are more astounding than the fantasies.

But little is being heard of Coach Magellan Hairston's crew of magicians of the mid-thirties as seven unbeaten, and one thrice-defeated, quintets approach Friday's playoffs.

The big topic this time is: "What will Lucas do?" That would be Jerry Lucas, the 6-10 straight-A student, three-time All-Ohio star of Middletown's defending champions. The tall kid is the kingpin of the most sensational basketball show in the Buckeye realm.

He has never played with a losing team in junior or senior high school, and he has paced Coach Paul Walker's Middies to two straight state titles. With his sensational scoring, the Middies have won 76 straight contests.

His 30-foot jump shot in the final second to the Toledo Ma-comber in last year's state semifinals has been heralded as the greatest under-pressure two-point-er in Ohio history. No one who saw it will ever forget.

Jerry has played in four state tournament games as a sophomore and junior. He holds every scoring record for the big event, which goes into its 36th runoff Friday.

In 24 games this season Lucas has scored 775 points, and his 76-game career total is 2,435. No one in Ohio has ever approached that figure.

But in the state tournaments, up against the hottest opposition possible, Lucas has been at his best. In four tournament contests Middletown has scored 324 points. Of them Lucas has contributed 171, the rest of the squad 153. Jerry is averaging 43.7 for the four tilts.

He holds the scoring records for a single game (53), two games (97), three games (143) and four games (171) in tournament play, and the same marks for field goals and free throws—a dozen records for his deft touch.

In his first tournament game, as a sophomore, he had quarters of 10-14-16-13 against Cleveland East Tech, then came back for 14-12-10-8 against Canton McKinley. Last year he scored 8-11-10-12-5 in the overtime tilt against Macomber, and then Kent Roosevelt's sensational Charley Boykin held him to 6-8-8-6 in the final.

In the four games he scored from the free throw line on 13 of 15, 8 of 10, 14 of 16 and 12 of 13.

The kid bows out of scholastic competition this weekend and, although he'll be up against unbeaten teams all the way, he figures to push his records out of sight. He'll wait until June to decide which college will get his services.

He's the biggest game Ohio's happy hunting grounds have ever offered the collegiate talent hunters.

Young Billy O'Dell Sparkles On Mound for Baltimore '9'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This could be the year the Baltimore Orioles can quit "nursing along" Billy O'Dell, the southpaw pitcher who jumped right out of the Clemons College in 1954 via the bonus route and into a major league uniform.

O'Dell, only 25, became the first hurler in the majors to go nine innings this spring when he defeated the Chicago Cubs with a 7-hitter Wednesday at Mesa, Ariz. Of course, O'Dell played in the Cuban winter league, and is further advanced than other moundsmen.

Chicago scored three runs off O'Dell in the first inning, two coming on Lee Walls' home run, but the young lefty from Newberry, S.C., blanked the Cubs from then on.

Five games were cancelled, all in Florida, because of rain or wet grounds. The Kansas City Athletics defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-7 in 12 innings at Ft. Myers, Fla., and the San Francisco Giants were beaten 6-3 by the Cleveland Indians at Phoenix, Ariz.

O'Dell had a 1-1 record with Baltimore in 1954, when the club said "we'll nurse him along. . ."

In 1955 and through August of 1956 he was in the Army. He had a 4-10 record last year.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, former St. Louis Cardinals star southpaw and Orioles pitching coach, has been tutoring O'Dell since he left college.

O'Dell walked one batter and struck out six Cubs Wednesday. He admits he still has a lot to learn.

Brecheen predicted, "He'll be a great one. . ."

Celtics, Hawks Heavily Favored
NEW YORK (AP)—The Boston Celtics and St. Louis Hawks, divisional champions in the regular season, have grabbed 1-0 leads in the National Basketball Assn. semifinal playoffs.

Victories Wednesday night made both teams heavy favorites to win the best-of-seven series.

The Celtics defeated the Philadelphia Warriors 107-98 while St. Louis came from behind to whip the Detroit Pistons 114-111.

The teams will rest until Saturday when the competition moves to Detroit and Philadelphia. The Pistons-Hawks game will be nationally televised at 2 p. m.

Bailey Changes Plans To Sharpen His Hitting
BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Ed Bailey, slugging front-line catcher for the Cincinnati Redlegs, admits he hasn't been hitting well in spring training, but says he has a system.

"During the remainder of the exhibition season, I'm not going to try and pull a single pitch," he said Wednesday. "I'm going to concentrate on hitting to all fields."

Baseball No Longer Rates As Top Sport

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball is no longer "America's national pastime," the facts say.
Basketball draws the most spectators. Horse racing takes in the most money. And, as for participant sports, Americans go for bowling, fishing and hunting.

Baseball trails in most comparisons.
According to a survey, basketball attendance for 1956-57 was 142,848,698. No other sport begins to touch this figure but no other sport offers as many games.

Horse racing, both the flats and trotters, drew 53,820,958.
In professional baseball in 1957, the major leagues attracted 17,015,819 and the minors 15,496,684 for a total of 32,512,503.

College football brought in 13,931,295 and pros attracted 2,836,318 for an aggregate 16,767,613.
The race tracks had total receipts of $254,811,000 — topping all recreation phases except the movies and country clubs.

Baseball's receipts were $53,410,000—even less than the billiard parlors, which brought in $74,981,000.

Basilio, Sugar Tapering Off For Big Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—Challenger Sugar Ray Robinson, close to the 160-pound limit, may take a rest in his training sessions today while middleweight champion Carmen Basilio does road work.

One of Basilio's managers, John DeJohn, said the champion is "tapering off" in drills for his title defense in Chicago Stadium Tuesday night.

"Yeah, I'm tapering off," said Basilio. "I didn't work more than 6-7 rounds yesterday."

Basilio admitted his weight was under 154.

Both fighters passed their pre-fight physical examinations with ease Wednesday, but there were some verbal fireworks among their spokesmen.

Robinson's adviser, George Gainford, said Basilio's handlers used a cut lotion containing chloroform in their September fight in New York Yankee Stadium. They said the stuff got into Robinson's eyes during clinches.

Gainford also said Basilio's handlers used a cut lotion containing chloroform in their September fight in New York Yankee Stadium. They said the stuff got into Robinson's eyes during clinches.

Joe Netto and John DeJohn, Basilio's managers, countered by calling the Robinson handlers "a bunch of crybabies."

Herb Score Slated To Start Exhibition

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Southpaw Herb Score will pitch for the Cleveland Indians against the San Francisco Giants here today in his second start of the season.

Score pitched three innings against the Giants in Los Angeles Sunday and lost.

Right-hander Bob Lemon, who underwent an elbow operation last fall, has been pitching batting practice almost every other day and may test his arm in a game over the weekend.

Flyers, Bonnies Favored in NIT

Xavier, St. John's Disagree with Odds

NEW YORK (AP)—Top-ranked Dayton and third-seeded St. Bonaventure, are favored to win semifinal games in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament tonight. But the coaches of the underdog teams think the odds are out of line.

"I don't think my team will cool off — the momentum should keep us going," said coach Jim McCafferty of Xavier (Ohio) which takes on St. Bonaventure in the second game at Madison Square Garden. And, said Joe Lapchick of St. John's, which goes against Dayton in the opener, "The teams are evenly matched."

The Flyers (24-3) are rated four point choices over St. John's (18-8) while St. Bonaventure (20-4) is figured three points better than Xavier (17-11).

St. Bonaventure coach Ed Donovan is worried about Xavier and he has a right to be. The Musketeers from Cincinnati dumped Niagara and then eliminated defending champion Bradley to reach the semis.

St. Bonaventure will be at a disadvantage in height. But the Bonnies had the same trouble with St. Joseph's and came out on top 79-75.

Dayton, which has made seven previous NIT appearances beat Fordham 74-70 in the quarterfinals.

"We should do better against St. John's," said Flyers' coach Tom Blackburn. "We hadn't played since March 4 and we were very rusty."

The championship game will be played Saturday afternoon. It will be televised in most sections of the country (4:30 p. m. EST, CBS).

Calumet Grooming Another Champ?

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Veteran observers agreed today that Calumet Farm may come out of Florida this spring with another Kentucky Derby winner.

This time it's Tim Tam, dark brown son of Tom Fool out of Two Lea, who is being counted on to duplicate the feat of Iron Liege, the derby winner last year.

Tim Tam raced only once as a 2-year-old but in seven outings this winter has won five and finished third twice, earning $138,775. Biggest of these was the Flamingo Stakes.

Tim Tam's latest race was Wednesday's Fountain of Youth Stakes at Gulfstream Park.

against the Giants in Los Angeles Sunday and lost.

Right-hander Bob Lemon, who underwent an elbow operation last fall, has been pitching batting practice almost every other day and may test his arm in a game over the weekend.

Farmers, Sportsmen Suggest Changes in 1958 Game Laws

A fish and game law hearing conducted at Memorial Hall last night was attended by approximately 40 farmers, sportsmen and wildlife officials.

The group made several recommendations for changes in 1958 hunting and fishing laws. The recommended changes will be submitted at a District No. 5 hearing slated for May 14.

A significant change passed last night was a motion to discontinue gillnet fishing. The group voted to accept most of the other fish laws as they were written in 1957.

Changes in hunting laws included a recommendation to extend the rabbit season 15 days. The group also voted to extend the last day of pheasant season from December 7 to December 15. The bird season usually starts November 15.

THE FARMERS and sportsmen also carried a motion to increase the gun season on deer from four to five days.

Along with this move they approved a recommendation that a gun season on deer start December 3. Last year the season was December 11-14.

The group also favored a move which would give the state a split deer season. The plan calls for northern Ohio to have a season similar to Michigan and the southern half of the state would have a season comparable to Kentucky.

Walter Richards was named the farmer delegate to attend the district hearing at Chillicothe in May. Lawrence Liston was selected as the farmer alternate.

Bob Wolf was elected to represent local sportsmen at the meeting and Bob Rader was named his alternate.

Cooper Defending His St. Pete Title

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—If Pete Cooper can put together four rounds of golf as neatly as he did a year ago, the Florida-born veteran should be able to annex his second straight title of the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open.

The 42-year-old Cooper fired a nifty 269-15 strokes under par for his victory on this same course a year ago. Par for the 6,387-yard Pasadena Golf Club course is 71.

About 150 are entered here but such luminaries as Jack Burke Jr., Cary Middlecoff, Jimmy Demaret, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Ken Venturi and Tommy Bolt couldn't make it this time.

Porcupines are devastating menaces to tree farmers for porcupines' favorite dessert is to chew up a healthy young tree. More-over, reports one Oregon tree farmer, they will eat anything, including dynamite.

Local Man Discovers Ancient Philadelphia Paper of 1768

O. J. Allen, 208 1/2 S. Court St., is the proud owner of what could be a rare and valuable newspaper which was printed in Philadelphia in 1768.

Allen, an office employee of the local C. F. Kplogle Co., said he purchased the 190-year-old paper about six months ago in Ravenswood, W. Va. The elderly man he purchased the well preserved paper from said the ancient edition has been handed down from generation to generation.

The pre-revolutionary copy bears the title of The Pennsylvania Chronicle and Universal Advertiser. A check with the Ohio Historical Society reveals that the paper first was published in Philadelphia in 1767, approximately eight years prior to the Revolution, by William Goddard.

According to Professor Frank L. Mott, an outstanding authority on American Journalism, the paper was turned out in Benjamin Franklin's old Philadelphia shop and on the press formerly operated by Franklin.

ALLEN's copy is printed on eight pages, each set in three columns of type. The paper measures 9 1/4 by 11 1/4 inches.

The newspaper is in excellent reading condition and the paper is well preserved for its age. The style of writing is typical of early colonial times.

The ancient vintage newspaper appears to give a comprehensive coverage of happenings in the Philadelphia area during that long-ago period. Of particular interest are stories on runaway bondsmen and slaves for sale.

Items for sale include fine plantations ranging from 200 to 500 acres. The advertising articles also include vivid descriptions of expertly bred horses for sale.

Farmers May Cut Acreage, but High Yield Still Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers may plant the smallest acreage to crops this year in more than 40 years. Surplus control programs provide part of the reason.

The Agriculture Department's spring planting survey report indicated the total acreage grown to all crops this year may be about 33 million acres, the smallest since before 1917.

But this would be only one million less than last year—an acreage which produced a record-tieing volume of crops. With improved moisture supplies in the Great Plains this year, crop production could approach if not surpass last year's volume.

Perhaps the most significant development in the survey is the prospect of a smaller total acreage to livestock feed grains. Smaller acreages of oats, grain sorghums and barley were indicated, but a slightly larger acreage of corn was forecast.

Portsmouth East Protest Approved

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—East High School here, which had been scheduled to be downgraded to a junior high school next September, got a school board reprieve Wednesday and will continue as a senior high school.

The board, in a special meeting, yielded to heavy opposition from the residents of Sciotoville to the proposed change. Sciotoville is a part of Portsmouth and East High School is located in that section of the city.

The board had announced last December that East High and Portsmouth High would be merged and that the East building would be used as a junior high.

Kirkwood New Chairman for Blood Program

Montford (Monty) Kirkwood, 110 Collins Court, chief resident inspector for the Circleville Lamp works of the General Electric Co. has accepted the post of chairman for the Pickaway County Red Cross blood program.

He is 40, a native of Circleville, and is married to the former Alma A. Mosler. They have a daughter, Carol.

His appointment came as a result of the semiannual reorganization of the blood program. C. K. Vaughan is vice chairman, Gerald Easter is industrial chairman and Harry Kaper is publicity chairman.

Recruiting committees have been formed to prepare for the next visit to Circleville of the Red Cross Bloodmobile, Monday, April 14 at First Methodist Church. Chairmen of these various groups are as follows:

Men's Service Groups — Ed Janakura; Women's Service Groups — Mrs. Leo Hughes; City Teachers and PTA — Mrs. Leland Dunkle; Circleville Business — Charles Mowery, Jr.

THE LIST of chairmen for the townships and granges is not yet complete. Because of this, Kirkwood said, all township residents and grange members are urged to call Red Cross Headquarters in Circleville for an appointment. Or, he added, they may just come to the Bloodmobile on April 14.

Kirkwood said that records of previous visits of the Bloodmobile show that a high percentage of the county's blood donations result from the faithful cooperation of these rural groups.

Man Denied Loan; Gets Cash with Gun

CINCINNATI (AP)—A man couldn't clinch a loan from Evanson Building & Loan Co. But he came back with a friend a little later and got $776 in a robbery.

George Geisler, a clerk at the firm, told police after the robbery Wednesday that the loan-seeker returned with a revolver, and said: "This is a stickup."

Geisler said he was ordered to put cash in a paper bag held by the second man.

Dime Store Chain Faces Big Tax Claim

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The stage is set for the largest sales tax assessment case in Ohio's history.

The state tax commissioner, Stanley J. Bowers, claims the S. S. Kresge Co., which has dime stores throughout the nation, owes stores throughout the nation owes

The company, which has its headquarters in Detroit, claims the assessment made by Bowers' aides is not correct and has appealed it to the State Board of Tax Appeals.

The board will hear the case in about a month.

The assessment was made against 36 of the company's 83 stores in Ohio on the basis of checks made by sales tax examiners during 1956. The original assessment was made July 25 of that year. The company appealed to the tax commissioner and, after hearings, the assessment was affirmed last Feb. 21.

The assessments were made against sales from 1952 through 1955.

Tax examiners made checks in 1956 to determine what percentage of individual store sales was below 41 cents, and not subject to the three per cent sales tax, and what percentage was subject to the tax. Then they applied these percentages to sales figures for previous years.

The company claims the test check period was not representative of its business for the period covered by the four-year assessment.

Bowers claims that during the four-year period the 36 Kresge stores should have purchased $396,579 more in sales tax stamps than they did, based on the test checks.

Insanity Claimed For Nurse-Slayer

HAMILTON (AP)—A plea of innocent by reason of insanity was made Wednesday in behalf of Shirley Edward Campbell, 20, charged with the slaying of Miss Sylvesta Andy, 20, of Piqua.

Campbell will be sent to the Lima State Hospital for a sanity test. Prosecuting Attorney Robert Marrs of Butler County, said.

Miss Andy, a Negro and a student nurse, fell off the roof of a five-story Mercy Hospital here last Jan. 17. Campbell, a white man and an orderly at the hospital, signed a statement saying he pushed her after a struggle when she resisted his advances.

Council Places $9,000 Bond Bill On First Reading

City Council Tuesday placed on first reading an ordinance calling for issuance of $9,000 in bonds to pay for an enlarged entrance to Ted Lewis Park.

Yesterday's story on Council's action said the solons passed the ordinance, which is erroneous. The lawmakers merely placed it on first reading.

Military Pay Hike Plan Given Nod

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposed military pay plan to reward skill and proficiency has taken its first step forward in Congress.

A House Armed Services subcommittee recommended to the full committee a bill based in large part on studies made by a civilian committee headed by Ralph Cordiner, president of General Electric Co.

Under the proposed bill men in the armed services less than two years would get no pay raise. A private's base pay still would be $78 a month. But men at the top level of the enlisted grades would get $460 instead of $320.

A captain (or Navy lieutenant) would receive $520 a month instead of the present $452; a colonel (or Navy captain) $920 instead of $749 and a four-star general or admiral $1,875 instead of $1,276.

Cophouse Plagued By Phony Coins

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Counterfeit coins, the plague of automatic vending machines, have bobbed up here to embarrass police officials.

The pennies inserted in the copper gaskets normally used with spark plugs approximate the weight of a quarter and thus return change to the thirsty crook.

Four such slugs were found today in a soft drink machine at police headquarters.

Construction Steel Sales on Increase

"These products are being turned out at depressed levels, but definite gains are looked for in the second quarter."

GOP Warned Not To Be Anti-Union

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republicans were told today it would be a "tragic mistake" to advocate anti-union policies that would alienate a "vast potential reservoir of Republican votes" among workers.

GOP national chairman Meade Alcorn said this while expressing the view that the Republican Party has an "excellent opportunity to broaden the support it has won from the rank and file of organized labor in recent elections."

In a speech prepared for Ohio Republican leaders, Alcorn said the administration's labor proposals have "genuine appeal to the workers of America."

He cited recommendations aimed at safeguarding union dues money and welfare-pension funds and at guaranteeing democratic processes in labor organizations.

"While the Democrats are the friends of many of the labor leaders who collect the dues," Alcorn said, "the fact remains that the Republican Party is the true friend of the rank and file workers who pay the dues."

Discussing the current recession, the Republican Party chairman said "our national economy remains strong despite Democrat scare talk designed to weaken it."

He said the administration is "keenly aware of the current downturn in employment and business activity" and is "moving aggressively on many fronts to meet the problem."

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—East High School here, which had been scheduled to be downgraded to a junior high school next September got a school board reprieve Wednesday and will continue as a senior high school.

The board, in a special meeting, yielded to heavy opposition from the residents of Sciotoville to the proposed change. Sciotoville is a part of Portsmouth and East High School is located in that section of the city.

The board had announced last December that East High and Portsmouth High would be merged and that the East building would be used as a junior high.

Kirkwood New Chairman for Blood Program

Montford (Monty) Kirkwood, 110 Collins Court, chief resident inspector for the Circleville Lamp works of the General Electric Co. has accepted the post of chairman for the Pickaway County Red Cross blood program.

He is 40, a native of Circleville, and is married to the former Alma Mosler. They have a daughter, Carol.

His appointment came as a result of the semiannual reorganization of the blood program. C. K. Vaughan is vice chairman, Gerald Easter is industrial chairman and Harry Kaper is publicity chairman.

Recruiting committees have been formed to prepare for the next visit to Circleville of the Red Cross Bloodmobile, Monday, April 14 at First Methodist Church. Chairmen of these various groups are as follows:

Men's Service Groups — Ed Janakura; Women's Service Groups — Mrs. Leo Hughes; City Teachers and PTA — Mrs. Leland Dunkle; Circleville Business — Charles Mowery, Jr.

THE LIST of chairmen for the townships and granges is not yet complete. Because of this, Kirkwood said, all township residents and grange members are urged to call Red Cross headquarters in Circleville for an appointment. Or, he added, they may just come to the Bloodmobile on April 14.

Kirkwood said that records of previous visits of the Bloodmobile show that a high percentage of the county's blood donations result from the faithful cooperation of these rural groups.

Geisler said he was ordered to put cash in a paper bag held by the second man.

Dime Store Chain Faces Big Tax Claim

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state is set for the largest sales tax assessment case in Ohio's history.

The state tax commissioner, Stanley J. Bowers, claims the S. S. Kresge Co., which has dime stores throughout the nation, owes stores throughout the nation owes

The company, which has its headquarters in Detroit, claims the assessment made by Bowers' aides is not correct and has appealed it to the State Board of Tax Appeals.

The board will hear the case in about a month.

The assessment was made against 38 of the company's 83 stores in Ohio on the basis of checks made by sales tax examiners during 1956. The original assessment was made July 25 of that year. The company appealed to the tax commissioner and, after hearings, the assessment was affirmed last Feb. 21.

The assessments were made against sales from 1952 through 1955.

Tax examiners made checks in 1956 to determine what percentage of individual store sales was below 41 cents, and not subject to the three per cent sales tax, and what percentage was subject to the tax. Then they applied these percentages to sales figures for previous years.

The company claims the test check period was not representative of its business for the period covered by the four-year assessment.

Bowers claims that during the four-year period the 38 Kresge stores should have purchased $306,579 more in sales tax stamps than they did, based on the test checks.

Military Pay Hike Plan Given Nod

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposed military pay plan to reward skill and proficiency has taken its first step forward in Congress.

A House Armed Services subcommittee recommended to the full committee a bill based in large part on studies made by a civilian committee headed by Ralph Cordiner, president of General Electric Co.

Under the proposed bill men in the armed services less than two years would get no pay raise. A private's base pay still would be $78 a month. But men at the top level of the enlisted grades would get $469 instead of $320.

A captain (or Navy lieutenant) would receive $520 a month instead of the present $452; a colonel (or Navy captain) $920 instead of $749 and a four-star general or admiral $1,875 instead of $1,276.

Cophouse Plagued By Phony Coins

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Counterfeit coins, the plague of automatic vending machines, have bobbed up here to embarrass police officials.

The pennies inserted in the copper gaskets normally used with spark plugs approximate the weight of a quarter and thus return change to the thirsty crook.

Four such slugs were found today in a soft drink machine at police headquarters.
